Sheriff's Substation Must Move by Nov. 1 -- Where?

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

The sheriff's office must move its Walnut Creek substation by November 1, Sheriff Harry A. Brown said yesterday.

Reason is that J. T. Lucas, who subleases the present substation at 2198 Mt. Diablo Boulevard to the sheriff's office, has been given until then by the State Division of Highways to vacate the premises.

The present substation at Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Oakland Boulevard will be torn down to make way for a cloverleaf which will be part of the Walnut Creek By-Pass.

Lucas formerly owned the building, which he now leases from the state.

THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE is planning to have modern, adequate quarters wherever the new substation will be, the sheriff stated. Inspector Norman Wilson, in charge of the substation, has tentative plans and specifications for a new substation.

But Sheriff Brown pointed out that the next location of the substation is uncertain.

Lucas recenly agreed to build a new structure for a substation on some property of his on Boulevard Way, if the sheriff's office wanted that site, Brown reported.

"However, we find that this would not be the best place, due to access problems," the sheriff said.

Lucas has another parcel at the north edge of Walnut Creek that has been mentioned as a possibility, according to the sheriff, and various realtors and private firms have suggested possible sites.

COMPLICATING the picture is the possibility that a substation and other county facilities may be housed on the Bancroft ranch or vicinity on the edge of the Ygnacio Valley area, east of Walnut Creek.

According to County Administrator Desmond Teeter, the county is giving serious consideration to the recommendation of the 1955-56 County Grand Jury that a new and central location for a corporation yard and garage for the county highway department be considered "in the Walnut Creek area."

This recommendation adds that "the same installation could serve as headquarters for the Agricultural Department, the farm advisor, the county sealer of weights and measures and future county developments."

LOCATION of the Walnut Creek substation there is a possibility, Teeter said.

However, Teeter stressed that possibility of locating the corporation yard and other county facilities in that vicinity is still in the "conversation stage" and that no negotiations are under way.

Tentatively in the proposed 1956-57 county budget is the sum of $100,000 for acquisition of property in that area, for that purpose, Teeter disclosed.

"A SUBSTATION," Sheriff Brown said, "should be centrally located in order to give maximum service to its area.

"I feel that a substation in the Ygnacio Valley area would not be centrally located for the area which the substation must serve.

"I believe that the substation should be in the immediate vicinity where it now is, or possibly a bit closer to Lafayette.

"We want to have adequate quarters at the new location of the substation. The present substation is admittedly inadequate.

"WE NEED a place where we can deal with the public in a dignified and satisfactory way.

"Also, such facilities as a lockup, an officers' room, an interrogation room and space for radio equipment are needed.

"And we'll have to find a satisfactory, centrally located place for the Walnut Creek substation very soon — because, according to the present time-table, we must be out of the present substation by November 1."

Three Car Crash Injures Couple

An accident involving three cars occured at 8:55 a.m. Tuesday less than a mile east of the tunnel on Highway 24, when a car driven by Ruby Mae Turner, 40, of 9828 Elmo Street Oakland, and headed east, had a blowout, went out of control and caromed off the car of Anthony Fereira and into a car driven by Donald Larsen.

Fereira, 49, of 3247 Derring Street, was also headed east on the highway. Although he was shaken up, he suffered no apparent injuries. There was, however, major damage to the right front of his car.

Larsen, 36, of 107 Price Lane Pleasant Hill, was traveling west on the highway. Both he and Mrs. Turner were taken to Kaiser hospital and later released, found to have incurred only cuts and bruises, according to investigating officer Scott Thomas.

Woman Treated

Treated at the Kaiser Hospital, Walnut Creek last Friday night for an overdose of barbituates was Dorothy M. Dunn, 35, of 1974 Shuey Avenue, Walnut Creek. She was then transferred to the County Hospital for observation.

Officials Ask Quarry Restrictions

Judge Dissolves Order Against PIE Building

Although a temporary restraining order blocking construction of a Pacific Intermountain Express Company office building at the Pine Grove in Orinda was dissolved last Friday, the Orinda Association is not withdrawing its efforts to bar the building.

Alameda County Superior Judge Allen G. Norris withdrew the restraining order and denied a preliminary injunction requested by the association in its suit against PIE, the owner of the property and the potential builder.

But Orinda Association President A. M. Arighi emphasized that "We do not plan on withdrawing the suit."

HE POINTED OUT that the Orinda Association suit "is still on file in Martinez. The ruling was with respect to the preliminary injunction only."

Arighi added that "We still plan to press the suit."

As a result of the judge's action, PIE could obtain a county construction permit, but C. E. Johnson, the firm's executive vice president, said building plans have not yet been completed.

The association may bring the suit to trial by filing a written memorandum stating it wishes to proceed, but no such action has as yet been taken.

There is no time limit on the filing of the memorandum, although the county may seek dismissal after five years.

THE ORINDA GROUP, which has been voluable in opposition to the construction of the $750,000 plush administration building, filed suit June 11 after a series of hearings by the Contra Costa County planning commission and board of supervisors which concluded with the supervisors rezoning the 10-acre property to allow for the office building.

Orinda Association representatives had described the supervisors' action as "arbitrary, unreasonable, unconscionable and capricious," and contrary to the spirit and intent of state planning laws.

However, Judge Norris' decision declares that he finds the action of the supervisors and the planners to be a legislative act, and "not subject to judicial interference."

HE ADDED THAT he found no irregularities in procedure by any county agency.

The judge also pointed out that Land Use Plan of 1945, which the association had claimed was designed to "keep Orinda residential," denotes the area as "urban areas — including commercial."

A PERSONAL INSPECTION of the site and a study of maps indicated "that the action of the planning commission and the board of supervisors was not arbitrary, unreasonable nor unfounded as to justify nullification," Judge Norris stated.

"In view of the restrictive and controlled nature of the development and construction authorized under the ordinance," he added, "there is no indication of such material adverse effect on property rights or values as to involve violation of constitutional rights, of equal protection of the law and protection against discrimination."

Ries Hearing Set For August 7th By Supervisors

Hearing regarding the land use permit application of Eugene P. Ries was set by the Board of Supervisors for August 7 in the chambers in Martinez.

Ries asks for 8 foot sideyards located on property in the Hidden Valley Estates Unit two. The Planning Commission approved the application recently.

At Tuesday's session the Board of Supervisors could have adopted the report, adopted the findings of the planning commission or grant a new hearing.

The board moved that a new hearing be set on the August date.

Philippine Life Told to Rotary

Philippine Island culture, history and society were some of the topics in the talk, "The Philippine Islands Today," given by Miss Ernestina Sison to the members of the Orinda Rotary at the Rotary meeting Wednesday at the Willows Inn.

Miss Sison, a native Philippino, is currently attending the University of California as a graduate student in business administration.

Progress of the Philippine people in the past 50 years was one of the major points of Miss Sison's talk. She also pointed out that 81 per cent of the island's 21 million people are Catholic.

Her countrymen were grateful, she claimed, for American help they have received until Philippine independence was achieved in 1946, and for American friendship today.

Program chairman of the day was James Kral, and new president Ramsay Underwood presided.

Sewer Improvement Needs Aired as Election Nears

With only two weeks remaining before the August 7 sewer bond election, Mayor E. C. (Ted) Counter of Walnut Creek and Tom Shreve, co-chairman of the Committee for Sewers, urged all residents of the affected area to consider the urgent need for such improvements in the Central Contra Costa County Sanitary District.

"OUR PRIMARY CONCERN in urging support of this bond issue is the health of the families in this area," Counter declared.

"The phenomenal growth of population in Central Contra Costa County has made our present sewage disposal system woefully inadequate, and the expected influx of new residents in the next few years will produce health hazards comparable to those of the Middle Ages if new facilities are not provided."

Mayor Counter pointed out that the present system was constructed to serve 45,000 people, but already the population has jumped to 70,000 and is expected to reach 100,000 soon. He said experts expect the ultimate population of the District to reach 820,000.

CO-CHAIRMAN SHREVE said the Committee is alarmed at the widespread confusion of the improvements to be made through the bond issue with standard District sewer connection charges, and local improvement district sewer assessments.

"The proposed bonds are to finance our improvements in the basic sewer system, which channels and transports safely the flow of sewage from all local and household facilities to the treatment plant where it is processed to render it harmless and inoffensive.

"WE ARE ALL presently paying taxes to support this system. No new taxes are proposed," he disclosed.

The commitee chairmen said copies of the report made by the engineering firm of Brown and Caldwell have been placed in every public library in the District so citizens can study the situation and learn of the vital need for the new sewer system.

IN ADDITION, mass meetings to explain the bond issue and the new system it covers will be held on July 30 at Danville, Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill, Lafayette, Orinda and Moraga.

Times and exact locations of meetings will be given soon.

The co-chairmen said approval of the sewer bond issue will actually reduce present taxes instead of raising them and the long-term extension of costs will permit future as well as present residents to share the expenses of the new system.

Free Polio Shots Will Be Given Tomorrow

Free polio vaccinations will be made available to children and teenagers next week in Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek, County Health Department officials announced.

The schedule is tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Pleasant Hill Community Baptist Church, 1924 Pleasant Hill Road.

Also Wednesday from 1 p.m. to 3 at St. Paul's Episcopal Parish Hall, 1924 Walnut Avenue.

As the supply of polio vaccine is now adequate, appointments are no longer required in Health Department Clinics. Those eligible for the vaccine are all persons aged 6 months through 19 years, and pregnant women.

Commercial supplies are plentiful and parents should consult their physician regarding having children immunized against poliomyelitis as well as against diptheria, whooping cough, tetanus, and smallpox.

In this way, each child's individual needs may be considered. For those who find it difficult to obtain medical services privately, the Health Department maintains regular clinics throughout the county.

Children attending Health Department Clinics must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian.

Those children who have already been given an appointment for a second injection of polio vaccine should keep that appointment at the time and place stated.

Those who have already had two injections for polio should not have a booster injection for at least seven months, preferably one year, after the second injection. No further injections are given after the third.

Supervisors Will Give Decision on Permit Tuesday

County officials met with the Board of Supervisors Thursday morning to submit a list of restrictions on the highly controversial Redwood Canyon rock quarry.

Having announced that final decision on whether or not to grant the quarry permit to applicant A. J. McCosker would be rendered next Tuesday, the supervisors fulfilled their promise of last week to establish a list of restrictions that would be imposed should the permit be granted.

A total of 15 restrictions were submitted by the county officials, who included the District Attorney, the flood control engineer, the public works director and the planning director, and others.

These are the restrictions:

"1. The applicant is to cause the area to be accurately surveyed and is to present a plot plan showing the exact location of the area to be quarried, the location and layout of rock crushing plant and all other equipment, the location of the spoil or waste area, the location of the access road, and a plan of the development of the intersection of the access road to the county road.

"2. Quarrying to be started at the top of the knoll, approximate elevation 1445 feet, and proceed downward in lifts not to exceed 20 feet. Each lift is to be quarried reasonably level and daylighted on both sides of the ridge before another lift is commenced.

"3. Spoil material or waste rock is not to be pushed over to the northeast but is to be confined to the spoil areas shown on the plot plan.

"4. Finished slope is not to be steeper than one-and-a-half horizontal to one vertical.

"5. All blasting will be done between the hours of 7 a.m. and 1 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays. Blasting shall be so conducted that it will not divert, block, damage or destroy any springs in the area.

"6. All rock crushing, grading, stockpiling, loading and waste will be confined to the southwesterly side of the ridge, where such operations will not be visible from the Moraga Highway side. The precise location shall be shown on the plot plan.

"7. All access to the quarry and all other operations connected with it will be from the southwesterly side of the ridge, according to the access roads shown on the plot plan.

"8. Excavation operations shall be limited to the hours of 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday, except holidays.

"9. Trucks hauling rock out of the quarry shall be limited in size and shall not exceed a gross weight of (undesignated) tons.

"10. Spillage from trucks onto the county road or other properties must be promptly cleaned up.

"11. Trucks operating out of the quarry — whether owned by the permittee, under contract to the permittee or from customers — shall follow County Road 2631 (Pinehurst Road and Canyon Road) to the intersection of County Road 0961 (Moraga Highway). They shall observe, in addition to any other reasonable speed limit imposed by Sections 510 and 511 of the Vehicle Code, a maximum speed limit of 25 miles per hour. It shall be the responsibility of the operator of the quarry not to deliver rock to trucks which repeatedly violate the route or speed limitation.

"12. The operator shall maintain effective dust control so as to prevent any substantial discharge of dust into the atmosphere or any dust nuisance on public roads or private property. Dust control shall be exercised on the working face, on trucks, at the crusher, at the spoil area, on the access road, and on all the operations connected with the quarry operation.

"13. The permittee will improve the intersection to the County Road to provide a sight distance of an undesignated number of feet, the intersection shall be a stop intersection, and the access road shall be graded to provide a level approach to the County Road. The plan of the intersection shall be a part of the plot plan and shall be designed to

C of C Ready To "Clean-up"

President Merle Brown told members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce Tuesday that plans were being formulated for a regular clean-up service in the area to "Keep Orinda clean."

The disclosure was made at the regular chamber luncheon meeting at the Casa Orinda.

Brown stated that the service may include street sweeping. He added that local Boy Scouts may be utilized in the drive toward cleanliness.

The forthcoming $8,900,000 Sanitary District Sewer Bond election was also a major topic of discussion at the chamber meeting.

The importance of passing the bond issue was emphasized by Frank Curtis, who reviewed for the membership some of the sewrage problems currently facing local residents. Curtis went on to suggest that solutions proposed in the bond issue were the answers.

"Better health and lower taxes" were the reasons Curtis gave for his advocation of passage of the bonds.

Gerry Horstkotte, engineer and manager of the CCCSD, also attended the meeting and answered many questions offered by chamber members on the bond election and Sanitary District problems.

As a part of the chamber "Christmas tree program," the East Bay Municipal Utility District has donated a cedar deodora, to be planted as a "living Christmas" in the interchange area, Paul Vashell, chairman of the tree committee announced.

Brown followed the announcement with the disclosure that the chamber has insurance to cover any tree planting work done.

Club to Meet

The Organic Garden Club of the East Bay, in lieu of a regular meeting, will conduct a tour on July 29 to the Randal Organic Ranch, 4545 Badger Road, Santa Rosa.

Hearings Set For August; Roads Costly

Hearings will be held between August 10 and September 1 on the county preliminary budget, recently approved by the Board of Supervisors and calling for a 28-cent increase from the present tax rate of $2.03 per $100 assessed valuation.

The total budget calls for expenditures of $27,907,400, an increase of $3,080,908. Biggest item increase is more than a $1 million for completion of a four-year county highway program.

Even at that, the final figures had been pared $358,579 from original requests by department heads which have been studied for more than a month.

THE ESTIMATED tax rate is based on an estimated property valuation in the county of $638 millions, up $15 millions from last year.

The 1956-57 budget contains a $900,000 increase in salaries to cover a 6 per cent increase in pay for employees.

The employees retirement fund has raised the figures $300,000, according to Auditor Howard McNamer.

Because Richmond provides its own library system, the tax rate there will jump from lesser figures of $1.951 to $2.20.

Purchase of a Juvenile Boys Rehabilitation Camp will take $60,000 of the current budget, compared to $30,000 last year.

ALLOCATED IS $376,050 for a new County Health Department Building and $316,000 for altering the County Courthouse.

Here are some of the items higher than last year:

Sheriff's department, $672,700; county hospital, $2,840,566; welfare, $8,495,710; health department, $1,314,689; road department, $4,960,977.

Incorporation Petitions Pass Among Orindans

Petitions for Orinda incorporation are being circulated this week by various improvement groups, spearheaded by the Orinda Association, among homeowners in the Orinda area.

Twenty-five per cent of the signatures of Orinda property owners required, representing one quarter of the assessed valuation in the area.

FIRST OF THE petitions "should be turned in to county officials in about a month, or 50 days after the Boundary Commission approved the proposed city boundaries," according to A. M. Arighi, association president.

Ted Sanford, chairman of the petition drive, has announced that petitions are being circulated by many groups in the area, as well as the Orinda Association.

At a meeting Monday night of the Civic Affairs Committee of the association, volunteers were called on to help with the circulation.

WITH THE DRIVE having been launched Monday, Arighi felt that it was going "very well" so far.

An important reminder, Arighi stressed, is that a signature on the petition "does not constitute a vote in favor of incorporation."

"More importantly," he stated, "it means a signature in favor of bringing the matter to an official balloting, thus allowing all voting Orindans to express themselves in an established, democratic manner."

AFTER SUCH a petition is filed with the Board of Supervisors, the supervisors schedule a hearing, at which exclusions and additions of areas can be sought.

Although the Orinda Association has been the driving force behind the move toward incorporation, Sanford last week explained that "We're trying to get the neighborhood improvement association to canvass their own areas."

While the petition drive was being organized, several of the local improvement groups met to form circulation groups.

Divorce Filed Vs. Robert S. Holmes

A suit for divorce was filed in Superior Court, Martinez this week by Mrs. Emmarie Gibbs Holmes, 3 Diablo View Court, Orinda, against her contractor husband, Robert S. Holmes.

Charges made against Holmes were that he beats her, threatened future beatings and threatened her life.

Mrs. Holmes, who says her husband earns $6000 monthly after taxes asks $500 monthly child support. Community property is listed as two-thirds of the capital stock in A. B. Holmes and Sons, Inc., a contracting firm; two late model cars, bank accounts, real estate, investments and life insurance of unspecified amounts.

The couple married in Los Gatos in 1953 and separated Saturday, according to the suit. They have one daughter.

15 Quarry Restrictions Proposed; Decision Soon

provide a safe intersection for the operation of the quarry.

"14. The permittee and quarry operator shall at all times and at his own expense, construct and maintain such sanitary facilities as will assure the safeguarding of any public water supply from pollution. The Health Officer for the County of Contra Costa shall determine what sanitary facilities are necessary from time to time in order to assure and fulfill this requirement. The Health Officer of Contra Costa County shall determine what, if any, measures shall be taken to prevent any pollution of drinking water, turbidity or other contamination of the water by quarry or rock crushing operations.

"15. The permittee and quarry operator shall at all times operate and maintain said rock quarry in such manner as will prevent the erosion and wasting of material, waste and debris of any kind into any public water supply. In this conenction,

"(a) Said permittee and quarry operator shall construct and maintain from time to time such silt and erosion control dams, structures and other devices as will at all times prevent the silting and erosion and wasting of any material, waste or debris into any public water supply;

"(b) The entire cost of constructing and maintaining the silt and erosion control dams, structures or other devices as herein provided shall at all times be borne by the permittee and quarry operator.

"(c) The need and necessity therefor, number, type, size and location of said silt and erosion control dams, structures and other devices shall at all times herein be determined by the Chief Engineer of the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

"16. Quarry operations shall be so conducted that there is no diversion of water from one watershed to another.

Following yesterday's meeting, H. L. Cummings, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, stated the board would not consider the quarry permit until "information on sewerage and exact information on the intentions of the operation are submitted by the applicant, Mr. McCosker."

No indication, however, was given as to whether this would cause a second postponement in the supervisors' decision. Judgement was originally scheduled for July 10, but was moved up to Tuesday to allow time for the restrictions question to be settled.

With yesterday's meeting closed to the public, Cummings has disclosed that any further objections on the quarry issue must be submitted in writing.

form of a petition the company

Meanwhile, a new voice has chimed in with those that have long been bucking the quarry. It is that of the Moraga Heights Mutual Water Corporation, which told the supervisors that blasting in the quarry operation might interfere with the company's function.

The objection came in a letter Tuesday and was signed by the company's president, Robert O'Neil, and secretary, Ellen A. Crawford.

The letter stated that blasting in the quarry might "disturb, interfere with or break our water lines."

"Our water supply is mainly spring fed," it continued, "and we feel that the blasting might be the cause of breakage and flow of water.

"If this permit is granted to Mr. McCosker to operate a quarry, we would like some guarantee from him that if such damage does occur, he will take full responsibility of repair," the letter said.

Follow-up action from the corporation came yesterday in the had circulated among Moraga Heights residents. The petition essentially reiterated the statements of the letter, but elaborated the final point.

It requested McCosker post a $50,000 bond to insure compensation should his blasting cause damage to the water lines.

Another group has also taken a stand against the quarry.

At a meeting Monday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Jonte, 47 Lost Valley Drive, the Lost Valley Association "clarified its stand against the quarry," according to Mrs. Jonte.

Main speaker at the meeting was Charles Stidtman of Oakland, an early opponent of the operation, who offered several reasons why the quarry would be detrimental to the community.

Dwight D. Seaton, 48 Lost Valley Drive, a member of the association, said that he was conferring with the District Attorney in an attempt to gain "the same restrictions as were imposed on the Gerald Farrar quarry in 1951.

Mrs. Jonte disclosed that the association's action would consist of attending meetings and decisions and sending l etters and telegrams to county officials in protest.

GAS CAP

If for any reason you lose the gas cap on your car, be sure it is replaced with the correct type cap, cautions the California State Automobile Association. A vented gasoline tank cap is necessary to insure proper, "breathing."

Kids Sail, Travel as Rec Program Enters Final Week

"Ship Ahoy, Mates," called the captain of the boat, and 130 interested youngsters and adults from the Orinda Recreation Department left Oakland Pier for a 2-hour boat tour around the bay last week.

The weather was perfect and sights on the trip were described by the Captain making the tour very interesting.

As part of the summer program, Orinda youngsters attended a dance and Tom Gaffney, Linnet Trefts and Nancy Englehardt were among those who won prizes for their fancy dance steps.

DONUTS AND "Paradise Punch" were served as refreshments.

On Wednesday, more than 130 youngsters and teen-agers went to Santa Cruz and really had a full day of fun. The "Bumper Cars" really took a beating when George Hauer, Jim Gilwee, Marty DeMaeyer, Diane Traverso, Heather Thurston, Ricky Collins, Tom Ferguson and Bill Caldwell, among others, were seen having a "bang-up" time.

Getting dizzy on the "Octopus" were Joe Cayting, Darrel Courtright, Albert Johns, Carol March, and Rebel Palm. In the "Fun House," Skipper Spaich, Hester Harris, John Dinnie, Susan Jensen, Judy Hauer, Nancy Jeppson, Julie Edlein, Bonnie Winters, George Hollidge and many other Orinda Recreation enthusiasts had trouble standing up in the spinning barrel.

Seen at the Movies Thursday, where "Sundown," an exciting adventure film, was shown, were John Cooper, Jimmy O'Brien, Don Navone, Danny Thor, and Bob Williams.

THE FINAL WEEK of the Orinda Recreation Summer Program will come to a close with the big carnival next Thursday.

Starting at 10:30 a.m. at the Orinda School, children attending can join in on many activities planned for their fun. For example, prizes can be won if the kids are able to "Squirt Out the Candle," "Hammer the Nails," "Hit the Director," or make a "Hole-in-One."

Refreshments will be sold; and all recreation participants are urged to come to the big show.

THE FOLLOWING SCHEDULE will be in effect at all playgrounds of the school district:

Tom Clarke Now State Chairman, Hindered Scouts

Tom Clarke, recently installed as president of the Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce, and long-time advocate of the Handicapped Boy Scout program, has been appointed to the State Chairmanship of this program. This is one of the California State Junior Chamber of Commerce projects.

In February, Clarke was asked to fill the vacancy which he did until the Jaycee year ended at the state convention in May.

DURING THESE MONTHS, he built up interest at the State Convention to where he had a 2000-strong Jaycee vote of approval to present this program to the National Jaycee Board of Directors for their approval as a National Jaycee project.

Recently returning from the National Jaycee Convention in Kansas City where he laid the ground work for the adoption of this program, Clarke will fly to Tulsa, Okla., July 26 to present this program to the National Jaycee board of directors for their approval.

An excerpt from National Boy Scout Headquarters annual report to the National President of the United States Junior Chamber says:

"Of particular interest is the project of the California Jaycees under the leadership of California State Jaycee Chairman Tom Clarke, in sponsoring Scout units for physically handicapped boys."

THREE YEARS AGO, the local Jaycees formed the first Handicapped Boy Scout Troop in this area, and the third of its kind in in the state.

Recently, they helped form and are sponsoring a Cub Pack for handicapped boys. The total leadership for the Scout Troop consists of Jaycee members.

This leadership includes the scoutmaster, five assistant scout masters, an institutional representative, troop committee chairman, troop committeemen, a troop transportation chairman, and every Jaycee acts on the transportation committee transporting the boys to and from their weekly meetings.

Model-A Group To Hold Picnic

The Model A Restorers Club of Northern California will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. at the barbecue terrace, on Mt. Diablo, according to Mal Staley of Pleasant Hill, a member.

Other local members include Frank Jeffrey of Danville.

The unit is just organizing. This is the second meeting.

Supervisors Call for Placing Of V.A. Hospital in County

The Contra Costa Board of Supervisors formally threw its hat in the ring Tuesday for the $8 million Veteran's Administration hospital, being planned to replace the obsolete hotel building in Oakland.

The Alameda supervisors last week also took action to persuade V.A. officials that the hospital site should remain in their county.

Both efforts follow closely a four-day visit to the East Bay area by Colonel R. M. Edgar, V.A. assistant administrator for construction, and his party, who toured the area, looking over Pleasanton and Sunol to the south, Walnut Creek area, and finally Martinez.

THE MARTINEZ people, headed by Mayor Jack Freis, showed the group several sites, and even sent representatives to Oakland earlier where Martinez as a site for the giant hospital was discussed.

The city officials and Chamber of Commerce of Martinez even had prepared a brochure for the V.A. men, showing the city's layout, and best possible sites.

Mentioned were locations at the end of F. Street, two in Franklin Canyon, two south and one north of the Arnold Industrial Highway, and another two near Reliez Valley Road. Twenty acres are needed.

Observers have speculated that the north county may have a good chance, since efforts by the V.A. to locate the hospital near Miramonte High School in Orinda have been discouraged, and Walnut Creek councilmen admitted last week that their city has few likely sites.

THE CONTRA COSTA Supervisors Tuesday drafted a resolution, on instigation of member Ray Taylor, calling for location of the hospital in the Martinez area," or any other portion of Contra Costa County in which the local residents are favorable to the installation."

The Alameda Board of Supervisors, in its bid, offered to take over the sewer and water service at Parks Air Force Base near Pleasanton if the Air Force shuts down and the hospital is built there.

The board also agreed to protect the Federal Government's water rights there.

Big Gondola Truck Scares Alamo Drivers

A complaint charging reckless driving has been filed against Albert Lehman, 31, of San Leandro, who allegedly forced several cars off the Alamo highway Monday afternoon, when he tired of shifting his big gondola truck into compound low behind a loitering car.

The complainant, William Taylor of Martinez, swerved his state truck to the side of the road, he said, to allow Lehman to pass, coming from the opposite direction, and then he called police on a special mobile radio.

Lehman was intercepted by Police Chief John Jordan at Main Street and Botelho, and warned to take it easy. Lehman was back on his side of the highway by then, Jordan said.

Other drivers who said they were crowded into the gravel were Robert Brien of San Jose and Mel Whalen of Oakland.

Disputed Ranch Tale to be Told

Deputy County Assessor George C. Collier, of Albany, has recently completed an illustrated manuscript on the history of the Moraga ranch which he hopes to have published soon.

Collier traces the history from a Mexican land grant in 1835 to its present status.

The Utah Construction Company bought the holdings from the Moraga Company in 1953 and plans development of a modern community at a cost of $140,000,000, despite opposition from citizens' groups from Orinda and Lafayette.

Visiting Indians Return to Homes

Four California Indians who spent two weeks as guests of community residents have returned to their homes. The children's visit was in conjunction with the visiting program of the American Friends Service Committee held each summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. McCord, 412 Lenox Court, Pleasant Hill, and son, Tommy, 11, entertained as their house guest Delbert Durant, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Reyes Durant, of Bishop.

DELBERT, whose parents are college graduates and his mother a registered nurse, was poised, well-educated and religious, according to Mrs. McCord. He and Tommy enjoyed discussing fishing, camping and outdoor life in the Sierras that the Durants participate in actively, as well as the boating and camping out they do the year round.

His father is a member of the Taos, Pueblo Indians of New Mexico, and his mother is a Paiute, California Indian.

The McCords thought Delbert took things "pretty much in stride" even though this was his first contact with the daily life of a non-Indian family. He participated in the recreation district's baseball clinic, swam at the pool, and became most enthusiastic when sight-seeing at Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco and particularly when viewing the floating museum "The Balclutha", Mrs. McCord observed.

Other families were Mr. and Mrs. Al Locatelli, 60 Sun Valley Drive, Pleasant Hill, who entertained Anita Sepsey, 10, of Big Pine, the "glamor girl" of the group, and a member of the Shoshone-San Juan tribe.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Gaines Jr., of 3097 Vessing Road, Pleasant Hill, had Corina Archuleta, 12 of Big Pine, a Pauite Indian; and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Brandes of 1606 Barnett Circle, Pleasant Hill had Raymond Stone Jr., 11, a Pauite Indian, and cousin of Anita.

THE AL LOCATELLI family entertained the entire group and their guests at an outdoor barbecue just before the children left the community.

The four guests were part of a total group of eleven children who visited also in Oakland, San Francisco, Palo Alto, El Sobrante, Redwood City, and Menlo Park. Mr. and Mrs. George Vurek of Orinda collected the children and transported them to their hosts' homes and returned them to their homes.

The Vureks have been participating in the American Friends summer visiting program for the past four years, but this has been the first year that California Indian childrn were included in the program.

Hopi and Navaho Indian children were guests previously, but with a limited amount of funds by the American Friends Committee for transportation of the children, they felt it advisable to contact Indians nearer to this general area.

ALSO HELPFUL in the visiting program, was Mrs. M. Hastings of Oakland. Mrs. Hastings started the Four Winds Club which meets monthly at the Oakland YMCA. It is primarily a social club for Indians becoming integrated in industry and daily living in our American way of life. The Intertribal Friendship group exhibits their crafts including pottery, ceramics, baskets, bead work, as well as holds a dance once a month to beome better acquainted.

This four year old plan is rapidly gaining momentum. Applications may be submitted to Vurek at 24 Vallecito Lane, Orinda before April 1, 1957, for guests next summer.

Three New Road Name Changes OK'd by Board

Three road name changes were approved by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday in Martinez, in the Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek and Clayton areas.

Willow Street will be now known as Ashbury Drive, Walden Road (the newly constructed portion between Contra Costa Highway and the new freeway) will be known as San Luis Road and Pine Hollow Road will be called Mount Zion Drive.

Building Costs Cut Sharply In College District Budget

Despite sharp reductions in the building program, the "publication budget" of the Contra Costa Junior College District is set at $3,378,687, for 1956-57, well over last year's $2,814,099.

The outlook for a tax rate under 35 cents per $100 valuation plus the one cent retirement levy, is slight, according to trustees.

The need for reducing about $175,000 from the proposed budget, with $140,000 of this taken from the building program, is due to a miscalculation.

IT HAD BEEN estimated that the assessed valuation for the district would rise about 10 per cent, but the figure is only 3.8 per cent, costing the district about $84,000 in tax income, according to Superintendent Drummond McCunn.

So, instruction costs must be cut about $18,000, administration, $6000, and reserve, $10,000.

A hearing on the budget will be held in August.

Present at the meeting this week were representatives of the County Taxpayers Association and the Council of Richmond Industries, who were critical of including such construction projects as the gymnasia in the current budget, while leaving work on new classrooms out, allegedly relying on later bond issues to care for them.

EDWARD HARDING of the Richmond Council intimated that the trustees are using tax rate money for "unpopular" projects, specifically the gymnasia.

District Chairman O. J. Wohlgemuth replied that the gymnasia have been waiting six years for implementation.

Trustees George Gordon of Martinez and Elton Brombacher of Richmond replied more candidly that only "two things are required of a junior college — physical education and American history."

The overall cost of the gymnasia will be about $700,000.

The possibility of a bond issue to help along the extensive building program, which involves $15 millions, is not a bright one at present, trustees averred. The present "pay-as-you-go" policy has been under study by the Taxpayers group and others.

Brombacher said that there is little chance for a bond issue in 1956-57, and its effect, on passage, of lowering the tax rate may be temporary only.

Council Cool to Transit District, County Approves

A doubtful Walnut Creek City Council will vote August 7, but the issue whether a proposal for a two-county transit district will go on the November ballot is already decided.

The Pinole City Council on Monday became the eighth city in Alameda and Contra Costa Counties to approve submitting to the people a plan which would create a new, independent authority.

This authority will have the power to cali for a bond issue to finance a public transit system, reportedly to become a local extension of the Nine County Bay Area Transit System.

TO SECURE THE required eight cities out of 16 in both counties, a successful speaking tour was made by Robert Nisbet, member of the East Bay Transit District Organization Committee, and Oakland's deputy city attorney.

He talked to the Contra Costa County Commuter's Association and the Walnut Creek Council last week. Both deferred their decisions.

At the local council meeting, Councilman James McAdams mid way in a presentation by Nisbet, said that he was not in favor.

He and Councilman William Tagen earlier this year attended a conference in San Francisco, devoted to the Nine County Transit System.

McAdams suggested that it would be better to concentrate on the Nine County System, leaving the local service problems to be worked out later on.

MAYOR E. C. Counter Jr., said that the views of civic leaders and Chamber of Commerce officials should be determined before any decision is made.

Councilmen Von Tagen and Farry Granzotto were absent, both on vacation.

The significance of the Walnut Creek Council and County Commuter decisions, lies in their effects on the voters in November.

Then, a majority vote would create a new two-county transit district, but a light turnout will not be sufficient, since two thirds of the voters in the proposed district must go to the polls.

At the Commuters meeting speakers were Nisbet in favor, and Marston Campbell, San Francisco attorney, against.

CAMPBELL SAID that most of the support for the district comes from the large downtown Oakland business interests.

Nisbet, in turn, commented that most of Campbell's objections were aimed at the Nine-County System proposed, and not the local district.

Nisbet added that what form of transportation would be used in the local district would be decided after the district has been created.

He warned that this county will suffer a dire transportation problem in future years, since Greyhound is unwilling to expand its services.

THE INIITIAL COST of administering the district would require less than a mil tax, or about $750,000 a year, he added. The bond issue would come later.

The Commuter reaction ranged from optimism to dubiousness, though the concensus was that some sort of public transportation, with the bill footed by the taxpayer is the answer.

The Commuters will vote on August .14

So far, official opposition has come from only two sources. — The Hayward Chamber of Commerce, and the San Pablo City Council, which Monday night voted 2-1 against placing the new district on the ballot.

THE RICHMOND City Council discussed it Monday, but postponed study until a full council can meet.

The transit district, if created, would include Alameda County, and Contra Costa County as far east as Martinez, Concord, Walnut Creek, Alamo Danville, San Ramon.

This includes Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga and surrounding unincorporated areas.

Favorable votes were polled last week by the councils of Piedmont, Oakland, Concord, El Cerrito, Albany, San Leandro and Emeryville.

In the afternoon a water carnival and archery tournament were held. Swimming races, featuring different strokes, a greased watermelon scramble and a canoe tilting contest were highlights.

EARLY LICENSE NUMBERS

Early motorists were required to paint their license numbers on their cars. When too many of these motorists started getting "carried away" with their painting, the state started issuing regulation license plates.

A LOVE OF CARROTS is usually common to rabbits, but with the right training, it can be a horse's delight, too. This was proven by "Lady Dot," a seven year mare owned by Jill Grove Pleasant Hill High student. The two share the same carrot, omitting Emily Post, on the front yard of the Grove home, 12 Gregory Lane, Pleasant Hill. Jill has trained the horses in two years to participate in shows and jumping events.

Women Track Champions Vie Tomorrow at Acalanes

Acalanes High's athletic field will be filled with more than 50 running, jumping and throwing ladies tomorrow afternoon.

These gals represent some of the finest women athletes in the nation and will be competing for the 1956 Western Women's Open Track and Field Championships.

ELEVEN EVENTS are scheduled for the afternoon, with the first beginning at 1 o'clock. The meet is sponsored by the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union and will be open to the public, free of charge.

The feminine tracksters will compete in the baseball throw, discus, javelin, shot-put, 80-meter high hurdles, high jump, broad jump, 50-meter sprint, 100-meter sprint, 200-meter sprint and a 400-meter club relay.

Competing in their last Pacific Coast warmup before the Women's Olympic Tryouts to be held August 25 in Washington, D.C., the girls will be peering ahead toward hoped-for berths on the boat to Australia in November.

THE TOP THREE winners in each event will be considered for the August Olympic trials.

An added feature of the meet will be the battle between the Pacific Association and the Southern Pacific Association for the team championship. Prize for the winning team is the Roxy Andersen Perpetual Team Point Trophy.

Since, however, the Southern Pacific AAU has no separate clubs, but competes as one solid unit for that district AAU, clubs in Northern California have disbanded to compete for the Pacific AAU on a more equitable basis.

Included in the star-studded list of entrants are two outstanding sprinters who will be renewing their rivalry Saturday.

They are 16-year-old Marcia Cosgrove of Renton, Wash., and 22-year-old Marine Private Gloria Griffen of San Francisco. Both of these speedsters are eyeing Olympic team berths.

PRIVATE GRIFFEN, who is being touted as one of the most promising Olympic Games prospects to come out of the armed forces, holds the Pacific Association 50-yard record of :06.4.

She also has best of :11.7 in the 100-yard dash.

Despite her youth, Miss Cosgrove is also rated as a top contender for the U.S. Olympic aggregation. A complete unknown before last year's Western Open meet, the fleet Northwest Miss stole the show by capturing the 50, 100 and 220-yard sprints.

She will pass up the 50 tomorrow, however, to concentrate on the hurdles.

In addition to the California entrants, girls from Oklahoma, Colorado, Washington and other western states will be competing.

Among the East bay contenders seeking medals are Lois Dye, Lee Ella Baker, Mary Ellen Rose and Alma Baskervill, all of Oakland; Charlene Williams of Hayward and Barbara Courtney of Berkeley.

Library Service Problems Are Current Topic

Problems of developing library service to meet current and future demands of Contra Costa County's growing population were discussed by County Librarian Bertha D. Hellum recently at a meeting of new and prospective employees of the county library system in the Administration Building Auditorium in Martinez.

All applicants who qualified in the recent civil service examinations for library assistants and library aides were invited to this meeting, arranged as part of the county library's program of in-service training.

Showing a map indicating new subdivisions lacking library facilities, Mrs. Hellum outlined studies for future establishment of three regional libraries in the western, central and eastern areas of the county, with bookmobile service to population centers outside areas reached by existing branch libraries.

Harold Baldwin, county training and safety officer, spoke to the group on county employment, illustrating his talk with a series of charts. He explained some of the privileges and responsibilities of employees under the civil service structure.

Realtors Will Hear Aitken; Plan Listing Anniversary

Speaker at the breakfast meeting of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board Monday will be James B. Aitken, Berkeley architect, and lecturer for the University of California extension courses in real estate.

Aitken will conduct a course in residential construction and design which some members of the local board plan to attend in the fall.

A SUMMARY was recently released by Wayne Bailey, board secretary, in discussing the proper price for a home. Considerations are:

The age of the house, the reproduction value, depreciation, and obsolescence, condition of the house as to paint, decorating and rehabilitation; sales and offerings of comparable properties in the neighborhood.

Leader in the multiple listing ratings for the second quarter of 1956 was Barney Gilbert, president of the board. A close second was F/W Maisel.

NEW MULTIPLE listing committee chairman is Dave Cotton, who succeeds Bill Hayward.

Members of the multiple listing committee are Sunny Read, Doug Knight, Bill Riggs, Al Kaplan, Nelson Wright and Hayward.

The committee is planning for a celebration of the tenth anniversary of the multiple listing service, to be held this year.

Cities' Valuation Up by 32 Per Cent

The Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association today released a study indicating that there has been an average assessed valuation increase of 32.8 percent in the cities of Contra Costa County over a period of the last five years.

The greatest percentage increase has occurred in the City of Concord where the assessed valuation rose from $8,975,455 to $22,504,685, a total of 150 percent. The greatest total increase in assessed valuation also occurred in Concord.

Other cities with substantial assessment increases over the five years were: San Pablo with an increase of 76.4 percent; Pinole 64.3 percent; Hercules — 46.9 percent; Antioch — 47.9 percent; Brentwood — 47.5 percent; Walnut Creek — 51.6 percent; El Cerrito; 29.9 percent; Pittsburg — 26.9 percent; Martinez — 21.8 percent; and Richmond — 18.7 percent.

Local Dancers Hold Meeting

Acalanes Folk Dancers held their monthly dance Saturday evening, at the Danville Veterans Hall.

"Sportsters" was the theme of the dance and appropriate advertisements of sports cars were to be seen on the walls. The programs had sports car models on the covers and the refreshment tables were decorated with midget models of sports cars.

Callers for the dance were Reva and Glenn Ward of El Cerrito and Rick Benofsky of Lafayette.

A short business meeting presided over by President Dick Banwell followed refreshments. The dance committee was introduced as follows: Phyllis and Bob Murphy, Pleasant Hill; Helen and Charlie Reilly, Walnut Creek and Walt and Julie Sessions of Danville.

Scholarships Given to Nine Area Seniors

This year nine graduating high school seniors from the central county area have been awarded University of California scholarships by the Diablo area California Alumni Committee, Chairman Don Reichert of Lafayette announced today.

Scholarships, each comprising a $300 grant, went to Gene Bell and Gay Gordon, Walnut Creek; Maralynn Hagood and Kathlyn Shimmin, Concord; Keith De Villers, Lafayette; and Mike Laurenson, Orinda. Honorary (non-financial) awards went to Dick Olness and Ed Ruff, Walnut Creek, and Judy Miner, Orinda.

The committee interviewed over 30 applicants, rating each according to academic achievement, general promise, and financial need. The increased number of scholarships this year was made possible by the committee's successful fund-raising activities, including a spring dance and mail campaign.

"This year's applicants were all deserving students. We hope to keep pace with the increasing need for area scholarships in the future," Reichert commented.

Defense Books To Reach Homes

Donald Freeman, 1044 Carol Lane, president of the Lafayette Meadows Improvement Association, and James T. Lapsley of 953 Carol Lane, a member of the association, will distribute a supply of Civil Defense literature on Disaster Preparedness to all homes in the Lafayette Meadows area.

Such pamphlets as "Emergency Sanitation at Home," "Six Steps to Survival," "Four Wheels to Survival," "Facts About Fallout" etc, were obtained free from the County CD office.

Freeman and Lapsley are also announcing that an eight hour course in Basic Civil Defense can be given in their area when 30 or more people sign up to take such a course.

Juvenile Court Hearing Slated On Youths' Act

Four teenagers, three boys and a 14 year old girl who were involved in recent acts of "immorality" and brought before the juvenile authorities, are awaiting their hearings before the Juvenile Court in Martinez.

Still held in custody by the authorities, the girl will appear with her parents before the court July 31. She was detained, according to Chief Juvenile Control Ofifcer Bela Clark, because of "other extenuating circumstances in her case."

The three boys, two 14 and one 16, have been in the custody of their parents and will appear with their parents at the Juvenile Court August 7.

Everett Joseph, the juvenile probation supervisor, stated that the boys will be brought before the court for "statutory rape, contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and being in danger of leading idle, desolute lives."

The youths were picked up recently after they allegedly committed immoral and illegal acts with the young girl in a vacant house in Lafayette.

Joseph emphatically stated, however, that the sole purpose of the juvenile court was not to judge criminal acts, but to help the youngsters adjust normal lives.

Karl Drexel Assumes Head Of ECCJC Curriculum

The Contra Costa Junior College District governing board recently announced the appointment of Karl O. Drexel as director of East Contra Costa Junior College.

Five other appointments involving district and college staff personnel were announced at the same time.

Drexl will replace Dr. Leland L. Medsker who recently resigned to take an appointment to a Carnegie Corporaton-financed project in higher education.

Dr. George W. Madison, district teacher-coordinator of business and distributive education, and a graduate of Yale University School of Education, will go to the college as dean of instruction. He will succeed Reed L. Buffington, whose promotion to be assistant to the superintendent was announced earlier this month.

DR. ASHLEY STEVENS, a college psychology instructor and counselor for the last four years, wil take over Drexel's former duties as dean of student personnel.

Two new men wil figure in the personnel appointments.

The first is Hal Cheney of the State Department of Education who wil take over Dr. Madison's former duties. Cheney, a former chief of the Bureau of Business Education for the State of Utah, worked with several Contra Costa businesses and industries in the course of his California State Department of Education assignment.

The second is Robert A. Gilmore, since 1947 on the staff of the California Department of Veterans Affairs, Division of Educational Asistance.

He will be a psychology instructor and college counselor. Much of his work will be with veterans, an assignment closely connected with his work of the last eight years in interpreting and coordinating the activities of colleges, universities, and other training institutons with the Veterans Administration education program.

DREXEL, WHO HOLDS an M. A. degree in education administration from Stanford, has done considerable work toward his doctorate.

He taught at Martinez Junior High School and Alhambra High School before becoming director of recreation for the City of Martinez. He served as a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Navy four years.

His first position with the junior college district was assistant dean of student personnel at the Richmond campus.

Later, he was transferred to the East Contra Costa Junior College staff when the school opened in its first temporary location in Martinez. Since the college has moved to its permanent campus near Concord, he has become a full dean of student personnel. Currently, he is president of the Walnut Creek Kiwanis club and commissioner-elect of the Coast Conference.

RAINY WEATHER DANGEROUS

A wet, rainy night is the most dangerous time there is for pedestrians. If you're walking, look out for vehicles and don't assume that the driver can see you. If you're driving, make sure your windshield wipers are working properly and keep a sharp lookout for persons afoot.

Debate on Uniform Tax Continues

Still seeking a solution in the apportionment of funds in a proposed uniform county-wide sales tax are county and city officers, who have thus far made small headway in deciding whether there should be a split of the cities' take, with one twentieth going to the county.

The cities, through the Mayors Conference, have said that they want to keep all of the one per cent city sales tax, which is already in effect in the 11 Contra Costa municipalities.

The Contra Costa Supervisors have said that .05 per cent should be transferred to the county funds.

Use of that money has also been argued.

The Supervisors at first offered to use it for construction of a boys' rehabilitation camp and parks within the county.

Now they are talking about using half of the city contribution for "aid to cities," for road projects within their borders, and the other half for county roads.

It has also been suggested that the money go into a trust fund until a study is completed.

The cities stand to gain by a uniform tax, because the state will collect it more efficiently, giving greater returns.

The county will gain, for there is no sales tax in unincorporated areas at present.

The debate will continue nert week, according to County Administrator Desmond Teeter.

JayCees Hold Annual Luau In Danville

The Second Annual Walnut Creek Jayceette Luau held Saturday, was attended by 150 couples, Junior Chamber members and guests.

The swimming pool at the home of Jae Howell and his wife on Stone Valley Road, Danville, was a busy spot for swimming and a water ballet.

Hula dancers entertained on the upper level before authentic Hawaiian food was served at low tables in an atmosphere of Hawaii.

In the torch-lit area fish nets, Hawaiian fruits, glass fish-net floats, and Island scenes depicted an air of authenticity.

Mrs. Art Bouterious, president, was attired in native grass skirt, Mrs. Paul Matthew, vice-president, wore a brown and pink sarong. Mrs. Tom Hasper, secretary, was wearing a brown Hawaiian print dress and Mrs. Harold Turner was in a green sarong dress.

BRAKE FLUID

Here's a good habit to get into: when you have your car lubricated each 1,000 miles, have the service man check the brake fluid level. It only takes a minute and it's one of the most important service points to have checked regularly.

That Refundable Deposit for Storm Work is Changed

A berated system where subdividers have in some instances passed an acreage charge for development of storm drainage districts to homeowners and pocketed the money later on, will be dropped in Ygnacio Valley.

The board of supervisors decided that instead of this money being a deposit with the county, refundable if a storm drainage district is not formed within a year, it will be in the form of a contribution by the subdivider in Ygnacio Valley.

This may apply to other areas, it was indicated.

The matter stems from the fact that the deposit required from the subdividers was often passed on to the home purchasers in the sale contract, and later was refunded to the subdividers, who kept the money.

The supervisors also will decide Tuesday on the formation of a Ygnacio Valley Storm Drainage District No. 1.

Plans were outlined in a hearing by Don Finlayson of the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District.

More than $20,000 in facilities will be installed if the district is formed. The main channel will lead from the Oak Grove Minert Roads intersection.

County Assessor Changes Quarters

The branch office will be continued in Richmond at the County Building, 100 - 37th Street, Richmond. They will handle the work for the West Contra Costa area.

The reappraisal and equalization program will operate out of the Administration office of the Housing Authority, Columbia Park, Pittsburg.

Your YES vote on Proposition 4 will STOP The Spoilers!
A century ago, when America's natural resources seemed inexhaustible, waste and reckless exploitation were the order of the day. The slogan of the spoiler was: "The public be damned!"
Protect Our Natural Resources
We've come a long way since the Robber Baron era. We've fought to save our precious resources from devastation. We've insisted on conservation—to protect our timber, our topsoils, our water, our fish and game.
Today in California, we have to battle for conservation once more; to save our oil—our most valuable resource of all—from the irresponsible, wantonly wasteful practices and the public-be-damned attitude of the spoilers!
Let's GO forward with 4
Proposition 4—the Oil Conservation Act on the November ballot—wil establish a State Oil and Gas Commission to put into effect modern conservation practices which the great majority of responsible California oil producers are ready and willing to abide by.
Double California's Oil Supply
Production methods made possible by Proposition 4 will double California's recoverable oil. Expert petroleum engineers agree on this. Even the opponents of the Act begrudgingly admit that fact.
What does that mean for you—and for all Californians? It means:
• More jobs and business prosperity.
• A huge new source of tax wealth for State, counties and school districts—to help ease your tax burden.
• Less dependence on foreign oil supplies—a life or death matter in time of national emergency.
Keep Gas Prices Down
Proposition 4 means price protection for you as a motorist--for greater supplies of California oil will help keep gasoline prices down!
Oil Conservation is in your interest—the public interest.
The Spoilers' way is the backward way.
Let's go forward with 4!

Frostbite foiled by Friendly Crowd

SOMETIMES EVEN WE NATIVES think this California Outdoor Living is a mythical thing! Just invite a slew of city friends over for a real Western barbecue complete w/all the accessories advertised in SUNSET and what happens?

Sudden gales of wind make a fire impossible, smoke and fog cloud the scenic view, paper plates blow skyward like flying saucers and you apologetically shepherd your guests indoors to an evening quite different from the one you had planned or the invited ones had anticipated.

But on those balmy nights you and your spouse have, all to yourselves, the terrace, gardens, pool and patio which NEVER before looked so beautiful, what happens?

A full moon debuts like a giant lantern, the crickets chirp a summer symphony, fireflies flutter, a bucolic cow is heard in the distance and NOT A SINGLE GUEST to impress or lavish it on!

THAT'S THE WAY IT GOES . . . Take is from the old-timers, the only SURE month for nitely outdoor gracious entertaining is September, and that's the month Orinda Lighthouse members will hold their Harvest-Moon hayride NEXT year!

Well, the weatherman tried to put a damper on this year's party, July 3, but the half-frozen fun-loving people would have none of his chilling attitude! There wasn't even a sliver of a moon and the swimming pool lapped waves like the Atlantic, but WHO CARED?

For the benefit of Enchanted Hills Camp, Lighthouse members and their friends gathered at Buckeye Ranch in Lafayette, (owned, by the way, by member Nancy Keeney and her husband Bob) for a Chuck Wagon Dinner and made a few little fireworks of their own at this party held the night before the Fourth. Most everyone skipped swimming in the new pool except a few rugged souls like Jim Chapple, (it was warmer IN than OUT), but there was enough dancing, entertainment and crowded camaraderie to ward off any possible frostbite that might otherwise have occured.

EARLY ARRIVALS . . . the Stuart Hendersons w/the George Cliffords, Jim Browns , , , Jess Longs huddling w/the Elbert Waynes . . . the Ed Turks, Dick McIntyres, George Hauers w/the Leonard Roths, a glimpse of Grace Hanks.

In the long chow line . . . Don and Darline Bradley w/the Jack Nordens chatting w/Grace Boyd, the Dan Christners . . . Jim and Nancy Davidson w/Eileen and Pete Peterson, the Petersons very proud of son Greg, 11, who had the distinction of being the only Orinda entry in the SF Soap Box Derby last Sunday. (We just learned that Greg placed first twice in two heats and plans to build another racer for entry next year!)

From an early gathering at the Charles Gibbs on Lombardy Lane . . . the Henry Harrises, (he in sharp new bluejeans), the Vol Plumbs, Jim Dennings, Charles and Betty Apgar, Bee and Norma Betz, the Karl Sternes, Bruce Winkworths . . . A change from wedding party duds to western ones for Dramateur Jack Holder and Phyllis Williams who arrived via the Gibbses from the Probert-Snoeberger nuptials with the brother of the groom, Dave Snoeberger, and several unidentified pretty bridal party ladies.

Singers are bueno in any language

IN A HANDSOME WHITE COWBOY HAT, dark coat and polished boots, tall Bob Holmes looking like strong competition for Wyatt Earp . . . He and his wife Emma Marie, who has lived in South America, enjoyed conversing w/the sombreroed-trio of wonderful singers who entertained w/the best of South-of-the-Border songs and were attired in authentic Charro costumes just brought back from Guadalajara by Umberto, one of the very fine fellows!

Cries of BRAVO and BUENO followed the trio's singing of "Jalisco," "La Golondrina," and "Granada," which is apple-cheeked Jessie Mancilla's specialty song (You would remember him as the featured singer of the Orinda Fiesta!)

Sponsored in this country by John Rosita Boyen of Orinda, Jessie has been here 3 years from Guadalajara where he took top honors in a Coca Cola talent contest, had his own radio program there, and is currently studying voice here. Together w/friends Umberto Sandoval w/whom he duets and guitarist Baldo Flores, Jessie can provide music in the most authentic Mexican manner hereabouts, complete w/a Mariachi (orchestra) and arrangements for these outstanding entertainers can be made by calling Mrs. Boyen at CL 4-5970.

A group of B'day celebrants arrived from Ed and Pat Higgins' home where a fancy round rye loaf (frosted and filled w/cheese) was studded w/candles and served in lieu of B'day cake w/toasts to Ed on his birthday.

Coming in from the Hay Ride . . . The Art Schwatkas, he in pencil-stripe western work clothes, Jean and Joe Downs, the latter wearing a red bandana shirt under a charcoal lambswool and more boots . . . Jane and Bill Courtright . . . Sideglanced between shivers, Helen and Jack Behr and their Oakland guests busy at the Canteen . . . A rakish six-foot scarecrow evoking chuckles from Chuck and Laurie Kersten there w/the Bud Loughmans, Ralph Phelps, Russ Usingers, and Vera and Jack Hart at whose home they had met beforehand.

DANCING TO MUSIC PROVIDED BY Jaspar Allara at the drums, young Gerry Gillivan on the guitar, accordionist Vitto from WC, and top-tootlin' Ted Schilling on the trumpet were Betty Zablockie w/Joe under a coonskin cap, the Con Smiths, Henry Soubielles, Frank and Lola Tebbs . . . Chairman Evie Hopper and her hubby Gene introducing another of Evie's sisters Dede South, laughing over the supply of paper plates, towels, and all the other short cuts necessary when swamped by so many visiting sisters . . . Latest arrival, by the way, Lillian Sterling from the Islands.

Home to the Dale McBanes to hover over a fire and hot mugs of coffee, the John Van Dynes, Jack Berards, Jay Meyers, Al Medinas, Joe Pardinis, George Andersons, Laura Cooper, the Jim Kittridges.

INTERNATIONAL NOTE . . . Ian Campbell Begg, husband of Dorothy at the Village Beauty Studio, brought his bagpipes and like the piper, piped some of the guests back to the Gibbs house . . . Party guests from farthest away were Mr. Begg's sister, Dr. Mary Begg and mother Joan Begg, here from South Africa. (Tales of our cold nights will be carried farther than expected!)

THAWING OUT AFTERWARDS at the George Jacksons, a good-sized crowd who had themselves fun dancing to Sinatra records . . . Joan and Jack McCorkle, Norman Smiths, Bob and Marcia Singer, Karl and Lorrie Rigor, the Jack Gregorys . . . For the late stayer-uppers here, a marvelous treat to a pantomime done professionally to perfection by tall talented blond Barbara Ferrone.

'Face-lifting' Brings New Decor to Black's Market

Redecoration and alterations have given Black's Market, TV Meats and T and D Liquors in the market the "new look."

Located at 63 Moraga Highway, the market recently completed a face lifting that put new fixtures, new shelving, new displays and new decor into the large building.

At the same time, the T and D Liquor section of the market underwent a revamping that means "better service and better selections for our many customers," according to owners Leighton DeMayer and Jim Tosteson.

The T and D changes offer an enlarged section featuring a wide selection of mixes, imported and domestic beers, and wines.

In addition, the T and D owners stated, a wider selection of liquor will be displayed on new shelving and against the freshly-redecorated background.

Don Tice and Norm Ironsides, owners of the grocery and produce departments, feel confident that "our friends will find the redecorations to their liking."

"We have tried to make the market as appealing, uncongested and convenient as possible," stated manager Lou Parre.

Tennis Road Rough, But Clif Maynes Becomes Star

Army Lt. Clif Maynes first played tennis at the age of 13 — and he didn't like the game.

But the 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton P. Maynes, 3980 S. Peardale Drive, subsequently developed a very great liking for the tennis courts, and has become one of the top amateur players in the nation.

Currently keeping his "raqueteering" in shape while serving Uncle Sam at Fort Monmouth, N. J., Clif came home on leave last week and dropped by The Sun office. Naturally, the topic of conversation was tennis.

The reason the slim, crew-cutted athlete disliked the sport at first, he stated, was that he took a licking in his first match.

As he was born and spent his childhood in Berkeley, this first defeat came at the Berkeley Tennis Club, where he had just become a member, at the hands of the club's number 1 junior player, Charley Hickox.

IT WAS THE STING of that defeat that got him rolling on the courts, Clif felt.

"I lost that match pretty badly," he said with a grin, "but I still thought I was pretty great. I really started to play then so that I could come back and beat him."

It took about three years of training, but Clif finally did develop enough to whip Hickox, and has been defeating his old nemesis ever since.

The next encounter of the two rivals will take place in the All-Army Tournament at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, where Clif will represent Fort Monmouth and Charley will show his wares for Fort Sill, Okla., on August 12.

COURT SUCCESS came rapidly for the brown-haired swatter.

His first national match was in 1948 at the National Junior Tournament in Kalamazoo, Mich., at which he represented the Northern California Tennis Association.

He competed in the tournament again in 1951, and after this was one of 10 boys throughout the country selected for the Junior Davis Cup team.

"I did fairly well in those junior tournaments," Clif smiled, leaning back in his chair, "but didn't really win too much."

That same year, '51, also marked the beginning of Clif's college career. He enrolled at the University of California and majored in advertising, as he hopes to go into his dad's advertising business upon his discharge from the Army.

But that didn't thwart his tennis career. To the contrary, Clif became one of the top collegiate players in the county and in his first year at Cal teamed with Hugh Ditzler to win the National Collegiate Doubles championship.

One of the brightest moments in Clif's court escapades came the following year at the Pacific Coast Tennis Championship at the Berkeley Tennis Club, his starting ground.

HE WHIPPED the nation's top-seeded amateur, Vic Seixas, but lost to Art Larsen in the finals.

In his years at Cal, Clif also competed in basketball and lettered three years running.

"My mother thought that I should concentrate on tennis," he remembered, "but I also liked basketball too well to keep away from it."

When queried about his particular style of tennis, Clif answered that "I like to go in and rush the net."

A good net player, he believed, will always eventually defeat a good baseline player.

Now in the midst of a tennis career that has included matches against such top players as Tony Trabert, Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, Clif expects to continue playing after his Army discharge.

"But," he added, "business comes first."

Navajo Teacher Interpreter Studying at PHHS, ECCJC

By ESTELLE GIRANDE

Three young members of the Navajo tribe are spending six weeks in Pleasant Hill on an education leave of their jobs with the Stewart Indian School in Stewart Nev. The attractive girls are teacher interpreters in conjunction with the Indian Affairs Commission's five year education plan for over age Navajos.

Miss Mary Ann Henderson of Shiprock, New Mexico, and Miss Mary Anna Sangster of Ganado, Arizona, both attending Pleasant Hill High School, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Griffiths at 10 Carol Lane, Pleasant Hill.

MISS LETTIE LITSON of Chinle, Arizona, is taking courses at the East Contra Costa Junior College, and is spending the six weeks as guest of Dr. and Mrs. Asley Stevens in Concord. Dr. Stevens is the new dean of admissions at the East Contra Costa Junior College, and both Miss Litson and Miss Henderson were guests at his home last summer.

"In 1946 the Indian Affairs Commission initiated the first five year school plan at the Sherman Indian Institute at Riverside, California," Miss Henderson explained.

"FROM THAT initial beginning we have a program going full swing today in a total of nine schools. The program is for over-age Indians—very similar to your adult education program."

She mentioned the schools are located one each in Utah, Oregon, California, Phoenix, Arizona; Albuquerque, New Mexico, and three in Oklahoma.

The special five year Navajo student's plan cover over-age Indians who have not attended grade school, or had no educational or assimilational opportunities.

During the first three years, students attend the school where they are taught the rudiments of reading, writing, arithemtic and English. The next two years they learn to live in our society, understand our culture, and work in our farms and industries.

During the last term they participate in an on-the-job training program to insure actual experience in the trade they have chosen.

The young summer teachers act as teacher interpreters, and Miss Henderson and her companions, aid the teachers in putting across the many subjects in the expanding curriculum.

"THE FIRST FIVE years the plan was in operation, we had difficulty in convincing our people of its many advantages," Miss Henderson said. "Today, with so many hundreds of Navajos who have graduated and have benefited greatly through this program, we have no problem reaching them."

The courses at Pleasant Hill High School include civics, economics and English, and the Junior College features U.S. history and communications. They started June 25 and continue through August 3 .

Acting as spokesman for the three of them, Miss Henderson remarked, "We like Pleasant Hill very much as it is a small community, and we all come from similar small towns. We have certainly enjoyed both our visits here."

THE TEACHER interpreters will leave our community in August, and will report back in time for sessions with teachers at Stewart Indian School starting August 23.

Miss Henderson slyly remarked, "Perhaps we will have an opportunity to return another summer to your pleasant community. At least we hope to."

Observer Post Members Hold Monthly Meeting

The Walnut Creek Ground Observer Post held a monthly meeting at the Walnut Creek National Guard Armory, 1800 Carmel Avenue, Tuesday.

The unit formerly operated in Lafayette but was moved last month to Walnut Creek because the Air Force considered the present location at the National Guard Armory a more favorable site for sky-watching.

Mrs. Isabelle E. Salisbury of Lafayette, post supervisor, announced that more observers are needed in order to keep the post operating on a 24 hour basis, especially for day hours in the early morning, and for Saturdays and Sundays.

Mrs. Esther Foreman of Walnut Creek is day captain for Wednesdays.

On June 9, designated as Ground Observer Corps Day in Walnut Creek by Mayor E. C. Counter, about a hundred airmen from the Parks Air Force Base canvassed the Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill areas for recruits to man the post and some 350 people signed up.

These people, as well as those who belonged to the Lafayette Post, and any others who can give 2 hours a week to sky-watching are cordially invited to this meeting on the 17th. A representative of the U.S. Air Force will be present to answer any questions.

Hearing Delayed

Hearing of the Della Edmeades request to rezone property in western Pleasant Hill was delayed one week by the Contra Costa Planning Commission Tuesday night in Martinez.

The request to delay the hearing was made by the Grayson Valley Improvement Association because two spokesmen of the group were on vacation. The previous week, the applicant asked that the hearing be postponed so that he could obtain the services of a lawyer.

EDMEADES asks .45 acres be rezoned from transition residential agricultural district to a neighborhood business district.

The area in question is located fronting the south side of Grayson Road, 150 feet west of the intersection of Grayson Road and Pleasant Hill Road.

This is your community. Help make it a better place to live in.

Gala Rummage Sale Announced By Crest Views

The Crest View Junior Woman's Club of Pleasant Hill has set August 10 as the date for its rummage sale.

A plea for clothing, household articles, books and the like has been made by Mrs. Lazzareschi. Anyone with such articles and wishing to donate them is invited to contact her at 218 Jeanne Drive, MU 2-2563.

Four CC Members Join in Support Of Sewer Election

Four member organizations of the Pleasant Hill Civic Council have gone on record supporting the forthcoming Central Contra Costa Sanitary District election.

The $8.9 million proposal has been given active support by the Grayson Valley Improvement Association, Pleasant Hill Chamber of Commerce, Gracelands Improvement Association, and the Pleasant Hill Improvement Association.

"Two more organizations of the Civic Council must give their approval of the issue before the council may go on record as supporting the bond proposal," said Tom Shreve, council president.

Meetings of the West Sherman Acres Improvement Association and the Sherman Acres Improvement Asosciation are scheduled this week. On the agenda for both organizations is discussion of the Sanitary District election set for August 7.

"No organized opposition has been voiced by any of the member organizations of the Civic Council," concluded Shreve.

Hanrahans Return From X-Country Trip

Frank Hanrahan of the Contra Costa County Department of Public Works has resumed his duties following a motor trip covering more than 8 thousand miles cross country.

Hanrahan, his wife Georgia, and sons, Richard 9, and Stephen 3½, took a five week trip that included visiting relatives in Boston and Kennebank, Maine; Yellowstone Park and Minneapolis.

Residents at 297 Kathryn Drive, Hanrahan is active in local civic activities and actively serves on the board of directors of the Citizens Water Committee of Contra Costa County endeavoring to defeat a 40.3 per cent requested rate increase by the utility company.

25 cents of every dollar Standard takes in goes to meet your future oil needs

Our search for oil has led to drilling offshore wells like this one (in the Gulf of Mexico) costing nearly 6 times more than land wells.

BUILDING "ISLANDS" IN THE SEA from which to probe the ocean floor is one good example of how we must search farther afield to find the oil America uses in such quantity. And as new sources of oil become harder to find, locating it and bringing petroleum products to you grows more costly.

Last year, a quarter of every dollar Standard took in was plowed back into oil exploration, development of producing fields, research and construction of facilities. All told, during 1955 we invested $347 million to help meet your growing oil needs.

Petroleum progress means . . . each of us will need 1007 gallons of oil yearly by 1956

Walnut Festival Plans are Far Ahead of Schedule

Plans for the four-day Walnut Festival, September 20-23 are well ahead of schedule, according to Rowland H. Barrett, president of the Walnut Festival Association.

John T. Schroder, treasurer, reported a balanced budget on current Festival expenses.

"The Festival parade, including colorful floats, beautiful girls and a big increase in marching units, will be bigger and better than ever," said W. R. Martin, parade committee chairman.

Rett Turner, chairman of the Walnut Festival Queen Contest, said that elimination of ticket selling chores of the past has resulted in an increase in the number of contestants.

The queen contest is open to any girl, 18 to 21 years of age, living within a ten-mile radius of Walnut Creek. Application blanks and queen contest rules are available at the Walnut Festival Association office, 1640 Main Street.

Contracts with Hollywood stars are now being negotiated, Dr. E. A. Moore, entertainment chairman, said. The names of stars will be released as soon as as contracts receive the official signature of the Festival Board.

John Osmundsen, commercial exhibits chairman, reported that display space in the tent is filling rapidly, and a complete sell-out is expected again this year.

Harley King, chairman of the gate and grounds committee, reported everything in readiness for the Festival opening, September 20.

The meetings will be held starting Wednesday with the subject of "Worship and Prayer." August 1 the topic will be "The Concept of God and The Story of Jesus;" August 15, "The Bible" and August 29, "Birth, Death, and Immortality." All meetings are held at the Fellowship House at 1415 Pine Street, Walnut Creek.

Jr. Museum News...

Snakes, Birds, Fish Really 'Live It Up!'

By ANNE HOWARD

This has been a busy week for Diablo Junior Museum's summer classes! The older children have been to Lake Merritt's Lakeside Park for their special trip, seeing the sights at the former Snow Museum there.

There is one separate class, under the direction of Mr. Ruth and Mr. Metzger, which took their trip to the Paleontology Museum at the University of California. This class is a special one for students who have taken the summer programs before and are more advanced in their studies. Some of its enrollees include Keith Howard, Roger and Ken Stark, Bob Lindsay and Steven Ruth.

IN THE YOUNGER classes, held at Walnut Creek School, it has been "Creek Life." Setting off with myriads of collecting cans, the children are learning about the animal and plant life that grow in our own creek. Each of them is making a gallon jar "aquarium" and studying its contents.

They're bringing in every imaginable form of local creek flora and fauna! The students that have contributed theirs to the row of aquaria in our classroom include Lewie Stark, Ronnie Williams, Linda and Diane Peterson, Bill Gardner, Jeanine Randisi, Keith Rosen, Dick Berta, Breck Smith and Sharon Fernandez.

The animal room has had three wonderful additions just this week, and all kinds of new events have highlighted the activities of the residents there. Mrs. Kay McGeehon brought us a big new box terrapin, but it certainly doesn't get along with he one we already have. They're both males!

Alex Lindsay, who is the president of the Museum organization, gave the "zoo" another possum, younger and more friendly than Ma Perkins, the momma living here already. The other new, but not permanent resident is a falcon, borrowed periodically from George McKenzie.

HE'S AS TAME AS can be, just sitting on a perch and looking everyone over all the time.

As for activity, the snakes have really been cutting up! The museum received a gopher snake in the process of laying eggs, but she isn't a very good mother and the staff is now attempting to hatch her 10 prospective young with warm sand and lamplight! Another gopher snake is losing his skin.

The most interesting of snake antics was performed this week by the king nake, whose strange method of dining caused commotion. Some time ago Danny Connelly brought a yellow-bellied racer to the museum, and this Tuesday was doomsday for him.

King was hungry and he swallow his compatriot whole! An alligator lizard was only saved from being dessert by Roger Stark, our volunteer full-time lab assistant.

Many thank to Louise's Variety Poultry in Walnut Creek, where the museum obtains the chicken heads consumed by the dozen by the possum and skunk.

AND MANY THANKS to Mrs. R. Clapp, who donated Sugar and Sugar-Baby, chinchillas from the CCC Chinchilla Ranch, to our museum. Sugar is a blue ribbon winner, and the youngsters enjoy her more and more every day. Her favorite activity, both for her and for Sugar-Baby, is a daily bath in sand and talcum powder. And is it fun to watch them fluffing themselves up in it!

Some new sea-life aquaria can now be seen in the museum display, thanks to instructor Bill Gripp's trip to Moss Beach. There's everything in our salt-water tanks that you'd commonly find in a tide pool—and it provides wonderful experience, seeing the daily life of sea anemones, starfish and hermit crabs. . . .

Next week the museum program is to center around local plant life. The youngsters are to collect, identify and press flowers. Then come the study of reptiles, and with each week the children are getting closer to the completion of the projects to be exhibited at the coming Science Fair.

Las Lomas CD Sub-Council Will Convene

The Las Lomas Civil Defense Sub Council will make its headquarters tonight at the home of Communications Officer William Nodder, 2030 Strand Road, in a control center exercise.

Time will be 8 p.m.

Coordinator John W. Gruver will be in charge.

About 10 to 14 members of the unit will be there operating short wave transmitters.

This is part of a nationwide simulated alert, conducted by Civil Defense authorities.

At least 12 volunteer Las Lomas staff members will conduct this exercise, with three Explorer Scouts serving as messengers.

Radio and telephone communications will be established between the Subcouncil and the County CD Control Center on Arnold Highway, Martinez.

Simulated disaster problems will be dealt with during the 2-hour activation period and a thorough test made of communications.

The following couples enjoyed a picnic at Russelman Park Saturday; Joan Butterfield and children Scottie and Carol; Ann Bryant and daughters Kathy and Joan; Bob Thomas and daughter Laurie (the rest of the Thomas family were confined to home because of the measles); Pat and Bob Hickey and children Sandy and Steve; and Doug Clark. Later in the evening the couples all gathered at the Thomas's for an evening of cards.

BIRTHDAY

A surprise birthday party was held at the home of Eleanor Crandall for three neighbors last Wednesday evening.

PICNIC TIME

A nice sunny day is always an invitation to one and all to go on a picnic and that's just what four families from Helen Road did last Friday night.

Larry and Doris Walker and sons Don and Brian and guest Jimmy Horner; Hap and Claire Holmes and children Linda and Tom; Harold and Helen Knott and sons Kenny and Allan; and Jack and Marion Corder and daughter Carol, drove to Curry Creek and had an evening of swimming and a barbecue dinner.

Harold and Helen Knott and sons Kenny and Allan of Helen Road have just returned from a week's vacation at Clear Lake. They are all nice and tan and wish they could have stayed longer.

MISSION TRIP

The Robert Hendricksons of Helen Road took a trip to visit Mission San Jose and then on to visit the Mission San Juan Batista a few weeks ago. On the way home they stopped and visited friends in San Jose.

Yesterday the Hendricksons took Jay, Pete and Kristie to the city and had a wonderful time seeing the sights, among them being Coit Tower, the Cliff House and best of all they had a ride on a cable car. Grandma kept baby Jon.

House guest of Linda and Tom Holmes this week is their cousin Doug Shinn from Sacramento.

George and Vi Cox of Helen Road had a barbecue birthday dinner for George's brother James Hanson Sunday.

Those attending were Mrs. Hanson, Joyce Hanson, Mrs. Gay Brooding, Mr. Maha, and little Larry Brooding.

Betty Wyrick and daughter Kimberley of Helen Road drove over to Clayton Valley and had lunch with their former neighbor Evelyn Anderson, Wednesday.

DRIVE UP

Bob and Flo Mercer, former neighbors on Helen Road now from Anaheim, Calif., drove up for a visit last 4th of July. Everyone had a fine time visiting and a barbecue was held in the Walkers' backyard in the evening with Marv and "Sammy" Fehr, Larry and Doris Walker and Jack and Marion Corder partaking of the delicious chicken dinner.

From here they drove to Clarksburg to visit Flo's parents and then on to Lake Tahoe for a few days and then on home.

"How old am I?"

...asks Mrs. Robert Mize, 26 Park Avenue, Mill Valley

Whatever became of the "motherly" type? . . . the woman who looked her age and (bless her) felt every minute of it? Answer: She vanished with the scrub board and the wood stove.

Today's mother stays young looking (and has more time to be motherly) with the help of modern appliances.

Take Mrs. Mize, who makes the most of labor-saving appliances. She's 34 — and mother to a brood of eight! (18-year-old Bob's in the Army.) Are you, too, making the most of modern appliances? With gas and electricity so cheap in California, you can run a whole houseful of appliances all day long for about half the price of most popular hair-sprays.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company

Moraga Sun

Organization of Moraga Valley Country Club Begun

A new country club is being formed in the Orinda-Lafayette-Moraga area of the East Bay, and membership applications are now being received on a limited basis.

It is the Moraga Valley Country Club, a non-profit organization, with well-known residents of this district acting as provisional directors until the membership is selected and a formal election can be held.

FILLING A long-felt need, this Moraga Valley Country Club will offer sport, recreation and relaxation for every member of the family. Special attention will be paid to supervised, separate activities for youngsters from teen-agers to toddlers.

The club will be on the site of the widely-known 23-acre Carroll Ranch, adjoining Rheem Center, with plans calling for greatly enhanced facilities.

In addition to the present large swimming pool, two other pools will be built, one a wader for small-fry. The present clubhouse will be remodeled, with a milk-soda bar and turned over to teen-agers.

PLANS CALL for a large clubhouse, which will include extra banquet rooms in addition to the regular dining room, a bar and other facilities for members only.

A "pitch-and-putt" golf course, half a dozen tennis courts and bowling greens also are among other attractions scheduled.

Provisional directors are:

Edgar Stewart, attorney and former president of the Orinda District School Board; Merle Brown, manager of the Orinda offices of the American Trust Company; Joseph Longacre, attorney; Robeson Smith, contractor; George Dodge of the Morinda Corporation; Frank Shirey, retired;

Dr. Fenwick Cole, Moraga; Lou E. Mancini, well-known manager, formerly of the Turtlerock Ranch, Castlewood Country Club and Diablo Country Club, who will manage this new club, and Gordon Heche, noted orchestra leader who will be assistant manager.

"WE PLAN THIS new country club for the whole family," explained Director Merle Brown, "and believe it will attract congenial membership not only from this district, but also from elsewhere in the Bay Region where such facilities are not presently available.

"The membership will be on a definitely limited basis to avoid overcrowding, so naturally those applying soonest will stand the best chance of being accepted," Brown stated.

Memberships are non-asssessable and non-proprietary, with initial rate set low at $100 plus tax. A $10 registration fee is payable at time of application. Dues will be $12.50 a month, but will not go into effect until facilities are available, the club has announced.

MEMBERSHIP APPLICATIONS may be filled in now at the Carroll Ranch Site of this new Moraga Valley Country Club, at Rheem Center.

The directors expect to start work on the new establishment within 60 days and hope to have the entire club operating by next spring, if not earlier, it was announced following a special meeting Tuesday night.

Young Horsemen Granted Site for Horseshow Arena

Young riders and horse enthusiasts in the Moraga area, joined in the newly formed Moraga Junior Horsemen's Association, have been granted a site for a horse-show arena across from Rheem Center.

The group, still in its infancy, includes some 20 teenage equestrians who form the nucleus of an organization devoted to training mounts and general horsemanship. Eventually it will be open for all youngsters 10 to 21, in the Lafayette-Moraga-Orinda area who have horses.

Plans for the horseshow arena were discussed last night at the Moraga School at a meeting of the association, which is headed by Mrs. Betty Parker.

Mrs. Parker is one of 10 adults who started the group and under whose auspices activities will take place.

The show ring and arena, which is to be located on a site made available by Donald Rheem, will be developed by the club and the adult advisory board for exhibitions. Trail rides and other events also are planned, according to Roy Gesinger, one of the advisors.

Instructors to teach the youngsters all phases of riding and caring for horses will work with the group, Gesinger said.

The arena site is near the intersection of Rheem Boulevard and Jonas Hill Road.

According to Mrs. Eva Thune, another active advisor, the organization will be filling the need of many young horsemen in the area who want to learn more about their mounts and the proper way of handling them.

Rhodes' Back From Europe

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rhodes of Lafayette recently returned from two months in Europe. During their trip they visited their son "Dusty" Rhodes and his family, temporarily living in Paris.

The C. A. Rhodes' itinerary took them to London, where they saw the crown jewels and the king's and queen's residence; Paris; Rome, where they visited St. Peter's; Naples; Monaco, where they viewed the residence of Prince Ranier and the princess (the former Grace Kelly).

IN PARIS they saw the king and queen of Greece. In London and Naples they visited many churches.

Their trip was arranged by Worden Travel Service.

Blount, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Blount, 56 LaCresta Road, Orinda, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Perry, while Bacan, son of Navy Capt. and Mrs. Barton E. Bacan, 1121 Palomares Court, Lafayette, is sailing aboard the destroyer USS Bearss.

The cruise, which comprises two battleships, two heavy cruisers and 16 destroyers, left Norfolk, Va., June 5 bound for ports in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, England and Germany.

Gunnery training at Guantenamo Bay, Cuba, will climax the cruise before the ships return to Norfolk August 2.

B of A Wins Moraga Bond

Bank of America was the sole bidder for $95,000 of Moraga School bonds. The bid was opened by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday in Martinez.

Interest rate of 3.739 was stipulated in the bid. The interest represents a net $35,521.

The $95.000 in bonds was passed by the residents of Moraga in the May 18 election called by the Board of Trustees of the district early in the year.

Moraga Dateline

By EVA THUNE, DR 6-5593

And then there is the story of the Post-Roundup Barbecue, held at one of the neighboring ranches last Saturday night.

It seems that one of the riders (no name, please) walked into the bar followed by his faithful hoss. Thinking only to be kind, our friends offered his four-footed companion a drink of something stronger than water. Whereupon, said "hoss" threw up his head, wrinkled up his nose, and very clearly whinnied, "What is this stuff you are trying to feed me?"

Moral: You can lead a horse to the bar, but you cannot make him drink!

Question: Who is smarter? Man or beast?

HEAT

It seems that with the summer heat (?) everybody is either going on vacation, coming home or still there. Mrs. Louise Lynch, of Larch Road, came here last Monday morning, received a call from Mr. Lynch that night and left the next noon to meet him in Seattle, Washington. By the time you read this, she will again be home — that is, if she hasn't been alerted to "hit the road" again.

ON VACATION

Barney Glasky of 280 Rheem Boulevard, is now on vacation, of two weeks. Aside from all the work it takes to get a new home in real smooth order, they plan to fill their spare time with entertaining friends for dinner, short trips to Santa Cruz, Monterey and Carmel. Also, will spend a few days at Russian River, which sounds a lot like fun to me.

Daughter Karen is back home again, after spending a good week in the Mt. Lassen area. Now, she's all set to enjoy a change of scenery. Beaches, that is.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Griffiths, daughter Carol and son Gary, are also back in the Moraga district, after a wonderful two weeks at Pinecrest, where they rented a cabin.

Reports from Carol are indicative of fun boating on Lake Pinecrest, which she tells me is a man-made lake, and that as far as the swimming went, she was the only one with nerve enough to get in the ice cold water.

A note to the younger set. Gary Griffiths is scheduled to appear on Tv Channel 13. Toony Town is a children's program, 4-6 p.m., but I guess I will have to concede a point and watch it.

Visiting at the John Thune home on Camino Pablo, is John's aunt Mrs. Lucretia Govedare, who is here from Hawthorne, Calif., a suburb of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Govedare plans to spend an indefinite time visiting among friends and relatives in the Bay Area, who include her sister, Mrs. John Thune Sr., in Montclair and her mother, Mrs. Lulu Bainbridge, of Hayward.

UP NORTH

In Sacramento for a day, was Charles Toll, new principal of the Moraga Elementary School. Purpose of the visit was to confer with State officials regarding State Aid for the new proposed school finances. I can guarantee I am not the only one interested in the outcome.

Tommy Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Kelly of Rheem Boulevard, turned three this week, so very appropriately celebrated with a party for 8 little friends — and their mammas, but the activities were fairly well confined to eating cake, which was decorated in red and white, and ice cream. I'll bet the mammas got the most fun out of the party.

BIRTHDAY

Miss Linda Thune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thune, spent her eighth birthday at a picnc in Tilden Park, and swimming in Lake Anza, July 10. She was able to wish a Happy Birthday to Mrs. Eleanor Wandel, also celebrating a birthday.

CALL

I would like to put in a note here, asking you all to please let me hear the news from you, so I can pass it on to all your interested friends and neighbors. You know the type of column you like to read, and that is the kind I like to write, so give me a call! Thanks.

$600 in Contributions Help Keep Summer Rec Rolling

Ted Collins, director of the Lafayette Summer Recreation Program, has disclosed that more than $600 has been contributed to the program by the various Parent-Teacher Associations, service organizations, the Lafayette Improvement Association and individuals in the area.

The funds, Collins commented are helping to conduct a successful program of keeping young summer vacationers constructively occupied during their spare hours.

As the summertime project enters its fifth week, youthful athletes will be making concerted track and field efforts, pointing toward the Junior Olympic final August 2 at the Stanley School.

THE "OLYMPIADS" will be held in conjunction with an area-wide Fun Day which will culminate the recreation program.

While the runners and jumpers are in training, however, activities in arts and crafts and other sports will continue, and movies will occupy program participants one day during the week at each of the schools.

The film schedule next week calls for four features:

"Walt Chases Pigs," a cartoon; "Heart of a Stallion," a western adventure picture; "Chimp the Aviator," an exciting cartoon; and the "Barber of Seville," another cartoon.

Movies will be shown, as usual, on Monday morning at Montecito, Tuesday at Burton, Wednesday morning at Stanley and Wednesday afternoon at Lafayette. Thursday at Springhill and on Friday at Vallecito.

Here's the way activities line up at the various schools for the next-to-last week of the Lafayette Summer Recreation program:

LAFAYETTE SCHOOL — John Jegi, athletic director at the Lafayette School discloses that a week of tournaments is in store for participants at the school.

Competition will be held in paddle tennis, ping pong, shuffleboard and tetherball, Jegi reports.

He adds that instruction in badminton for enthusiasts in the fifth and sixth grades and in baseball for the third and fourth graders will also comprise part of the week's program.

The arts and crafts group at Lafayette will commence work on leather projects next week. Students will be making coin purses, scissor and knife holders and belts.

Ice cream cartons will be converted into colorful wastebaskets as the children work on decorating them.

SPRINGHILL SCHOOL — With the Junior Olympics as a goal, trials in the dashes, basketball shooting and the softball throw for distance will be held next week at the Springhill School.

Football instruction and practice will be another feature of the Springhill week that will keep the sports-minded youngsters busy.

Leather will also be the prime objects of the arts and craft students at Springhill. Directors Rita Orl and June French announce that while leather coin purses are being made, cork coasters and table mats will also be worked on.

MONTECITO SCHOOL — Since summertime is the logical time to start work on fall sports, athletes at Montecito School will be organizing football teams and attending a daily pigskin clinic. Though softball will also be occupying the sports calendar, the "decathalon" men will be in training for the August 2 Olympics.

A talent and hobby show will culminate a week of arts and crafts creativity at Montecito. During the week young hands will be busy making leather bookmarks, preparing ice cream cartons for wastebaskets and making tissue paper flags.

BURTON SCHOOL — Variety will be the spice of life for summer recreationists at the Burton School next week. In addition to making paper mache bowls, balloon and string ornaments and cut cut flower arrangements and scratch drawings, the children will be watching movies and attending classes in folk dancing.

Athletic director Bob Carlson's wards will be continuing their efforts toward making a good showing at the Olympics. Many other sports and games activities will also make for a complete summer recreation week at the school.

VALLECITO SCHOOL — "Toys and Jewelry" week is coming up at the Vallecito School. But in addition to the theme projects, pictures will be drawn and leather belts made.

Paper dolls, dyed beads and yarn wrapped jewelry dishes are some of the projects that give next week its name at Vallecito.

Highlight of the sports week at the school will be the Bike Rodeo Wednesday, but director Kent Kincaid announces that team competition in several sports will also be incentives to athletes.

STANLEY SCHOOL — Junior Olympics fervor has also carried over to the Stanley School, where time trials in several events will be held throughout next week.

Next week will find two of the school's tournaments ending; horseshoes and the paddle tennis doubles, according to director Hal White.

Many arts and crafts activities will be included in "Jewelry" week at the school. Necklaces and bracelets will be made from dried colored beans, and plastics will be woven to form key chains and whistle chains.

Practical everyday jewelry such as earrings and cuff links made of copper, will be the week's features. Knitting boxes, paper wastebaskets and jewelry boxes will keep the Stanley youngsters well occupied as the Summer Recreation program nears its close.

Singer to Come Home Following German Acclaim

With two years experience on the German opera stage and rave reviews from German critics behind her, Miss Frances Groves arrived home recently for her first visit in four years.

Miss Groves will stay six or seven weeks with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Murray H. Groves, 25 Camino Encinas.

The attractive dramatic soprano earned her teaching credential at College of the Pacific. She sang in college productions and later studied voice with Hedwig Schnoor in Berkeley.

She continued training with Jennie Tourel and the late Paul Althouse in New York.

For two years Miss Groves worked with Mme. Iukashik in Munich, Germany, before being accepted for a principal operatic role in the Stadt Theater, Heidelberg.

Upon her return to Germany she will sing in the opera house at Kiel.

Newspaper clippings sent to her mother from Germany describe Miss Groves' singing as "brilliant" and "excellent." Her German enunciation was termed "Flawless," Mrs. Groves reported.

The young singer attended grade school in Orinda, Acalanes High school and Anna Heads' school in Berkeley. She was graduated from Berkeley High before attending C.O.P.

Moraga Groups Organize In Freeway Route Protest

Five groups in the Orinda-Moraga area have consolidated their efforts to protest the State-backed route of the western leg of the Shepherd Canyon Freeway with the formation of an Orinda-Moraga Valley homeowners committee Monday night.

Representatives of four of the five organizations, whose communities would be most directly affected by the proposed routes through Moraga Valley, congregated at the home of Lloyd MacDonald, 133 Donna Maria Way, Orinda, to organize the protests against freeway routes 3 and 4.

MacDonald is the president of the Lincoln Estates Improvement Association, one of the protesting groups.

Other groups represented were the Moraga del Rey Community Association, Ranchitos de Moraga Association and the Lost Valley Community Association.

THE FIFTH GROUP, the Inland Valley Improvement Association, was not represented at the meeting but has expressed a desire to become a part of the bloc.

Heading the contingent is Orinda attorney Robert Thaman, who was selected for the leadership because he is a "fine, capable lawyer," MacDonald said.

According to MacDonald, the new group felt that Thaman was the natural leader of such a protest group "because we liked the way he handled the Veteran's Administration hospital protest."

The attorney, claimed the Lincoln Estates president, is currently gathering data on which to base the protests.

Residents of the Moraga Valley are objecting to the State-backed route and the adjacent route number 3 because of the proximity to the residential portions of the area.

ASKED WHETHER the new organization favored any other route in lieu of the ones they objected to, MacDonald answered that the group had not yet officially taken a stand for any route.

"That will have to wait until the data is compiled," he said.

Unofficially, however, several spokesmen of the member organizations of the new union had expressed favoritism toward the Indian Valley route.

Joining hands and efforts with the infant committee is the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association, which has also been opposed to the State route, according to Mrs. Holland DuBois, secretary of the Civic Affairs Committee, who is also a member of the Lincoln Estates group.

The Civic Affairs Committee also met Monday night, Mrs. DuBois reported, and gave full vocal strength to the freeway protest.

At the committee meeting in the Orinda Community Church, Joe Zablocki urged the members to voice more strongly their objections to the routes.

HE ADDED THAT stronger terms should be used in any protest resolutions the Orinda Association might formulate.

Secretary Mrs. DuBois was asked to contact the five groups of the Orinda-Moraga Valley Homeowners Committee to form a still stronger protest bloc.

Although none of the groups is at present taking definite protest action, MacDonald stressed that the sole purpose of the five groups joining protest voices was to object to the freeway routes, and "not to compete with any other organization."

The group is temporary, he indicated, and will only function until the issue is settled. He said that he is expecting supervisorial action, in the form of a public hearing, "sometime in September."

FIRST JOINT ACTION of the five groups came on July 10 when their respective presidents signed a letter to the Board of Supervisors asking for a study of the four proposed routes considering "community values."

They stated that their organizations represent over 500 homes and asked that the supervisors request the State Highway Commission, in accordance with Section 75.5 of the Streets and Highways Code, to conduct the study with the aforementioned values in mind.

The letter also commended the supervisors for "your stand against routing the freeway through Moraga Valley — a stand which is in full accord with, and has the support of, the owners of the more than 500 homes we represent."

Movies Added to Dollar Day Slate

Dollar saving will be only one of the advantages of the semi-annual Lafayette Dollar Days August 9, 10 and 11, according to the sponsors, the promotional Division of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce.

The merchants in the group are also offering two movie matinees on Saturday, August 11, to culminate the bargain days.

A film will be shown, free of charge, at the Park Theater from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m. on that day. Tickets may be obtained during the three days of values simply by dropping in to any of the sponsoring stores and asking for them, with no purchase necessary.

Member firms of the Promotional Division of the chamber will be identified by the large Dollar Day signs in their windows.

These firms promise outstanding values and great savings during the three Dollar Days.

Inside Glenside

Welcome to some newcomers in the Glenside neighborhood — Bill and Mary Harper and their three children, two boys and a girl, have moved into their new ranch type home on Las Trampas Road.

Pamela Lee is enjoying a session at Girl Scout Camp — Sierra Woodlands, near Nevada City. Her brother, Bill Lee, has been visiting relatives in Naw York for the last month. Pam will also leave for an Eastern visit on July 29, after returning from Scout Camp.

The Phillip Scheidermayer family is "home again" after a month of travels in the East — Jean visiting her family in Colorado. Lois and Eileen Martin spent four days sunning and swimming with their neighbors, the David Sargents, at Russian River.

MUSIC HATH CHARM

Combining her interest in music with a pleasant vacation, Mary Souza attended the Bach Festival in Carmel, staying at Carmel Inn.

Roger and Kay Souza have been busy this summer supervising the building of their new home in Alhambra Valley.

Marion Cunningham has been enjoying a leisurely month — a vacation from her very busy job as secretary in the principal's office at Stanley School.

David LeClaire has an interesting summer job — Junior Counselor for Camp Gualala, the YMCA Camp near Healdsburg. David left July 10 and will be gone for a month.

Dick and Anabelle Lotter have named their son Mark Vernon, a family name. Mark was born July 6 and is being welcomed by three older sisters.

OAKLAND IMPORT

Diane Fekete is planning to enter Acalanes as a Junior this next fall — transferring from Holy Names in Oakland.

Kay Fekete chaperoned a group of about twenty boys and girls — all members of the St. Perpetua Teen Age Group — for a swim and picnic party at Santa Cruz on July 15.

Dennis Money spent three days visiting Byron Alton, a former Glenside neighbor, in San Leandro.

The Scott family, Deke, Comfort, Tim, Comfort Jr. and Sarah, enjoyed a week of beach life at Balboa Island in the Southland.

A poolside party for Sally Sutton, daughter of Marje and Orville Sutton. Sally entertained about 18 guests, members and mothers of her Girl Scout Troop 83 at her home last week. The group enjoyed swimming and root beer float refreshments.

Acalanes Valley Notes

By DOROTHEA CUMMINGS, AT 3-2973

FAMILY GROUNDED

Back from a flying trip to Southern California are Bonnie and Fred Klinkner and their two older children, Tommy and Linda. The big attraction for them in the south, of course, was Disneyland.

However, they also took time out from their other sightseeing long enough to visit Knott's Berry Farm.

During the week they were gone, the Klinkner's youngest son, Andy, spent a delightful time visiting with his grandmother.

The trip to the south was the second little vacation outing of the summer for Tommy who spent a week in Calistoga with his grandmother, Mrs. Fred S. Klinkner, in June.

Thoroughly enjoying life in Acalanes Valley these days (in spite of the detour!) are "Beeb" and Bob Marsh who moved here from Concord a month or so ago. They have purchased the home formerly owned by the Paul Woods.

Enjoying their new home along with "Beeb" and Bob are their two young daughters, Robin, 5, and Pamela, 12. Mrs. Marsh's mother, Mrs. I. J. Rosetti, completes the household.

HOMESTEADERS

Down on Marianne Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cumming have now moved into their new home, the one formerly owned by the Ferraresses.

Since moving in a few weeks ago, Ruth and Bruce have spent most of their waking hours working in their garden — and loving every minute of it.

Mr. Cumming was retired recently from Shell Chemical Company in Martinez, and he and his wife moved here from Pittsburg.

Welcome, newcomers!

Home now, probably for the rest of the summer, is Mrs. Effie Casselman of Marianna Drive, who has just returned from two vacation trips which took her in two widely different directions.

First, she and two friends motored up to Vancouver, British Columbia, where they visited Victoria and took the 28-mile tour of the area.

Then, after being home only a day or two, Mrs. Casselman and her sister, Mrs. Ethel Clark, drove to Lake Tahoe and spent several days there.

Are Kids Busy? Try Recreation!

Have you stopped to consider how fortunate your children are in having well supervised recreational facilities available to them to help take up the slack in their summer days?

Probably the biggest single blessing to come to weary mothers during the long summer months when the children are "home from school" is the recreation system set up in our communities.

A tremendous variety of interesting events and supervised play is offered in each of our communities, and there is something for almost every child of every age . . . from pre-schol to teen-agers.

For the sports minded boys there is always baseball and basketball, and the courts and fields are open for their use, with supervision, six and sometimes seven days a week.

For the youngster who is not sports minded there are a variety of craft and hobby courses taught, and many a child has found the start of a real hobby in such a course.

And for the child who is a little shy about participating in organized sports or craft activities there are "special events" such as bicycle wheel days and doll and model shows.

But the best feature of all concerning the summer recreation program is that it is free for the child who is interested, and it is supervised by adequate personnel who know their business . . . and who know and like children.

The program offers mothers a chance to relax with freedom from their children for a little while, yet know that the children are in good hands.

It allows the child to grow in a "playtime" atmosphere with other children, yet to take advantage of the opportunity to learn something useful and instructive.

The various recreation departments and teachers who are heading the recreation programs at our schools deserve special commendation and thanks for the work they are doing with the children.

But best of all, perhaps, is the effect it has on the children. Do they like it? You bet they do. Just ask one!

$838,000 Budget Set by County United Crusade

The new county-wide Contra Costa United Crusade has submitted to the United Bay Area Crusade a budget of $838,581 for inclusion in this fall's Five-county campaign, Roy Bartels of Richmond announced today.

He is chairman of the 13-member Admissions and Allocations Committee, with representation from all parts of Contra Costa, which has drawn the budget to meet dollar needs for 1957 reported by 55 youth, health and welfare causes. The Contra Costa needs are being considered along with those of the United Bay Area Crusades' four other districts prior to setting UBAC's campaign goal on July 28.

Contra Costa's request is substantially bigger than the $494,933 that county agencies received from Crusade campaigns last year.

"THE INCREASE reflects the increasing need for our agencies to give service to our growing population," Bartels said. "The county has been booming for years, and we've never caught up with the need."

Fifty-seven percent of the request is for services to children and youth, Bartels said. There are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls in almost every corner of the county. Red Cross chapters and the USC are budgeted for 21 percent of the total.

Salvation Army and family and child care services make up 11 percent of the whole Contra Costa request. About six per cent is for health causes, including national arthritis, cerebral palsy, Mental health societies and local community clinics. The remainder of the request is for community services like welfare planning councils — about five percent.

COMPARING THE 1957 request with this year's agency budgets, Bartels said the West Contra Costa agencies received $262,889 from the United Bay Area Crusade last year when they participated in UBAC as the West Contra Costa United Crusade. Their 1957 request totals $429,198. Two new agencies — the Urban League and Guidance for Retarded Children — are included in that request.

The central county agencies are asking for $287,644 as compared to $155,385 which they received last year from UBAC, via the East Bay United Crusade, to which they then belonged.

Do Hospitals Meet Needs?

Although medical science today is making unprecedented strides toward ridding man of so many of the fatal and incapacitating diseases that have plagued him since time immemorial, there is, ironically, a greater need for hospitals at present than at any time in history.

In an increasingly complex society which has mass-produced auto and air transportation and propagated many other man-made dangers, there is a growing need for hospital beds and facilities; advantages that everyone nas a right to expect.

THIS ESPECIALLY holds true in an area such as this one, which must answer hospital needs for the tremendous influx of newcomers as well as for the established residents.

The question here, of course, is whether our hospital facilities at present are sufficient to handle the situation. This is the question the roving reporter put to local folk in candid interviews.

A negative opinion was registered by a man who should know, Nemen Coury of 924 Carl Avenue, Lafayette.

Coury, a medical and insurance investigator whose firm, United Investigations of Oakland, has been conducting research on hospital needs, finds that "there is a lot of room for improvement" in the local hospital situation.

IN ADDITION to feeling that there is a definite need for another hospital in the area, the investigator claimed that "Present hospitals are not adequately staffed."

Mrs. David Clay Jones, 51 Barbara Road, Orinda, agreed fully that another hospital is called for.

"There aren't any hospitals here," she told us. "I'd like to see some kind of hospital, even an emergency hospital, come into this area."

OF COURSE, not everyone felt that adequate facilities were lacking.

Mrs. Winnette Treppard, 289 Camino Pablo, Orinda, believed that there are enough hospitals here, "considering the size of the area."

She conceded, however, that it is possible that a hospital could be put to good use between Orinda and Walnut Creek.

The opinion of Mrs. R. G. Greathouse, 50 Acacia Drive, Orinda, was that she was too new in the area to have formed an opinion.

Being a newcomer, she said, she so far has had no use for hospitals other than the Children's Hospital in Oakland.

Mrs. Mark Gilmartin of 1573 Shirley Drive, admitted that she and her husband haven't been in the area long, but added that, "we have have been thinking about joining a hospital plan in the near future."

"We haven't had any trouble recently, and so far no visits to the hospital," she added.

BEFORE THE construction of Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek, her doctor was inconvenienced by travel to Berkeley, said Mrs. Darwin Kraner of 132 Springbrook Road, Walnut Creek.

"The new hospital undoubtedly is wonderful for this area, but probably there is need for more facilities," she declared.

"We belong to Kaiser, and think it is fine, though there may not be quite the personal contact as under private service," offered Mrs. John Simeons, 318 Soule Avenue, Pleasant Hill.

BEFORE COMING here, the Siemons family, including three boys and a girl, lived in Oakland.

"One thing that could use improvement," said Mrs. Philip Kane of 261 Monticello Drive, Walnut Creek, "is the Kaiser Hospital parking lot."

"It's just terrible getting in and out, especially during the road improvement along Main Street in front," she exclaimed.

Daughters in the Kane family are Ann, 11, Ellen, 9, and Janet, 5.

Letters to The Editor

QUARRY MEETING

Dear Editor:

A corporation has made application to the Board of Supervisors for a permit to open a permanent Rock Quarry and Crushing Plant on the hills above Lost Valley in South Orinda.

At an Orinda School meeting last week, the following facts were brought out:

It is a 15 Year Rock Quarry operation; blasting and dynamiting must be done; contour of hills will be changed; county must repair and strengthen access roads and bridge to accommodate heavy 10 wheel trucks; creates new flood and water pollution problems.

Dust, noise and debris are unavoidable; most rock will be sold in Oakland with little benefit to Contra Costa County; application is for 320 acres of operation; trucks can have access to Lost Valley, Moraga Del Rey and Lincoln Estates roads; quarry site can be seen from over 150 homes.

MRS. GEORGE R. NEASELY

GOATS TOAST SHEEP

Dear Editor:

We read in last week's Sun that Mr. Cummings said the people of Orinda are the laughing stock of the county. Our feelings aren't hurt because most of us are laughing too, but Mr. Cummings should not have included all the people of Orinda — only the sheep.

Here is a toast from the goats of Orinda to the sheep:

Black Sheep, Bell Sheep,
whither go now?
Follow the leader, we'll have a good row!
"Orinda, Protest!," our bell
sheep are bleating.
Our futures at stake, our
"planners" are meeting.
From hill-top to hill-top they jump and they scramble,
Searching for issues that they can "untangle."
No issues too trivial, no problems too small,
They'll meet them head-on —
They'll protest them all!
OH! Bell Sheep! Bell Sheep!
What shall we do?
A VA HOSPITAL, a
FREEWAY'S in view!
Orinda is wrathful, we're all in accord,
We wish to protest, we'll not be ignored!
But where are the Bell Sheep?
Not one can we find!
A real danger threatens,
And they've left us behind!
They're off on their hill-top,
Their bells we hear ringing;
Our "future" they're plotting,
Confusion they're bringing.

Are the new fluoride tooth pastes effective in preventing tooth decay?

As a proponent of fluoridation of our water supply, this writer was keenly interested when the new fluoride tooth pastes arrived at the corner drug store... We buy and use them, but have been most curious as to their effectiveness.

Well, I just found the answer and perhaps you will be interested.

The American Dental Association, using indirect terminology as professional societies often do, says:

". . . The American Dental Association is not aware of evidence adequate to demonstrate the claimed dental caries prophylactic value of 'Crest.' (Brisk is another brand.) Although clinical tests of the dentifrices are in progress, adequate information concerning its value may not be available for a year or more.

In other words . . .

"The Association therefore believes that all fluoride dentifrices are being marketed prematurely . . ." the report states.

The Association remarks that children under six should not use these tooth pastes because they may swallow "an appreciable portion of the dentrifice, thus contributing to the possibility of dental fluorosis, especially where adequate or excessive levels of fluoride are present in the drinking water." (Note that the wrapper on these products also clearly caution against their use by children under six.)

Here is the key:

The Association concludes with the most important point:

". . . The evidence accumulated in the past 20 years to support community water fluoridation is overwhelming in comparison to the amount of clinical data to support the usefulness of fluoride dentifrices. It would be a disservice to the dental health of the public if the promotion of fluoride dentifrices should lead to the misconception that their use is an adequate substitute for the controlled fluoridation of municipal water supplies."

Since we have no children under 6, our household is continuing to use the fluoride toothpastes. They may not be doing us any extra good but they probably are of the same value as any other paste or powder on the market.

The real answer, of course, is fluoridation of our water supply by East Bay Municipal Utility District and California Water Service. As you may know, the Gregory Gardens Water District has been fluoridating its water for some time and these children will have 50 to 70 per cent less cavities than ours.

I wonder if we parents are encouraging our children and teen-agers to read good books during the summer?

In a period when television has, if not replaced, at least put a considerable dent in reading habits, it would be a pity if children should lose the sense of thrill and adventure that can come only through reading certain books at an early age.

Mark Twain, Charles Dickens, Robert Louis Stevenson—yes, the famous authors. But there are bookshelves filled with well-written, interesting novels that aren't necessarily "literaure" to open new horizons to our children. Our nine-year-old Mark is on a reading jag for the first time. He is devouring every boy's novel on baseball and football that we can find.

Everyone is happy

A word of thanks to you wonderful readers. Many of our teen-agers have taken the opportunity offered by The Sun to place a free, work wanted ad in our classified section. And the response from you "help needers" has been wonderful.

Many teen-agers have had more work than they can do. Remember, teen-agers, the offer is still open. Read the details in the first section.

THINGS WORK OUT alright, however, as Sally's first meeting with the soldier, Bill Page, includes making him comfortable on the living room couch when he can't get a hotel room. Bill is played by Bruce Sloan as the show runs this weekend and winds up with productions next Friday and Saturday. The show is directed by Carl Rasmussen and performances begin at 8:30 p.m.

WOMAN'S FICKLENESS in John Van Druten's "The Voice of the Turtle" is exemplified here as Olive asks Sally to entertain her soldier boy friend while she stands him up for a better date. Olive (left) is portrayed by Betty Reynolds in the three-act comedy which opens tonight at the Lafayette Town Hall. Sally is played by Betty Moran.

'Turtle's Voice' Opens Dramateur Season Tonight

The Dramateurs' Summer Theatre Season opens tonight with John Van Druten's "The Voice of the Turtle."

The pleasant informality of the Lafayette Town Hall will be remembered by those who enjoyed last year's "theatre in the round" productions of "Gigi," "The Fourposter" and "The Guardsman."

This year's productions will be done in the arena style with the audience seated around a central acting area.

"The Voice of the Turtle" gets under way tonight at 8:30, with Betty Moran of Danville playing Sally, Bruce Sloan of Walnut Creek as Bill Page and Betty Reynolds of Orinda cast as Olive.

Betty Moran and Sloan are new members of The Dramateurs and have not previously been seen in the Valley or Bay Area, but promise entertaining- premiere performances. Betty Reynolds will be remembered for her portrayal of Miriam in "The Women."

The Van Druten story concerns a soldier, Bill Page, on weekend leave in New York, who gets rained-in with Sally in her three room apartment after Olive has stood him up on their date.

The hilarious situations that develop, plus the complication of Olive's return to claim her date, supplies the plot around which Van Druten has written this sophisticated comedy.

Performances are scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings and for the nights of July 27 and 28.

Admission is $1.10 and tickets for individual performances are obtainable at the boxoffice or from Dramateur members. A telephone call to Mrs. Connie Sterne, ticket chairman, at YE 4-9628 will obtain blocks of tickets for those who may be planning theatre parties.

The second of the Summer Theatre productions will be "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," scheduled for the first two weekends in August.

Doyle Favored For State GOP Committee Post

The County Republican Central Committee recently came out in support of Assemblyman Donald Doyle as vice chairman of the State Republican Central Committee.

Doyle is also a California delegate to the GOP National Convention to be held next month at the Cow Palace.

There are reports that possible opposition might stem from Southern California Republican leaders that the same person should not be an election official and a top officer of the state committee.

The County Committee, which met at the Hall of Records, re-elected James Moriarty of Orinda as chairman. Ed Mertens of El Cerrito is vice chairman, and Mrs. Mel Marshall of Pittsburg is women's vice chairman.

Secretary Jack Pedder of Lafayette, and treasurer is May Wilcox of Richmond.

A series of fund-raising events will begin throughout the county, and locally in Walnut Creek and the Diablo Country Club.

The Republican turnout for the primary election was better, proportionately, than the Democratic showing, according to Jean Bates of Concord.

Doreen Smith To Marry Donald Filbert of PH

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Smith of 2933 Concord Boulevard, Concord, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Doreen Smith to Donald A. Filbert of Pleasant Hill.

The announcement was made at a swimming party held by Mr. and Mrs. Emery J. Filbert, uncle and aunt of the future benedict, at their home at 1085 Homestead Avenue, Walnut Creek. Guests included members of both families and friends of the young couple.

Her finance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvy Filbert of 102 Karry Lane, Pleasant Hill, is also a Mt. Diablo High School graduate; was four years in the U. S. Navy, 2/c radar man, aboard the USS Hornet that toured the world, included duty in Korea, and returned recently from Japan and Hong Kong just prior to his discharge in March; and is presently working in Walnut Creek.

Plans are being formulated for a Saturday evening, August 18 wedding ceremony in Concord.

Gwendolyn Jobe Weds In Lutheran Service

An afternoon wedding ceremony of interest to local residents, was held recently at St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Oakland, when Miss Gwendolyn Jobe became the bride of Richard Liston.

The bride wore a ballerina length pink lace nylon gown, her figertip length veil was held in place by a pearl seed matching cap, and she carried a white Bible covered with a large white orchid, and was given in marriage by her father. Her attendants wore matching dresses of teal blue, and carried old fashioned nosegy bouquets of carnations and pink roses.

Flower girl was the benedict's five year old niece, Susan Liston of Pleasant Hill, who wore a white net ballerina length dress and a pink sash, and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Best man was Wayne Liston of Pleasant Hill, the benedict's brother; usher was Charles Downey of San Francisco.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Robert Rigglesford of Hayward, wore a beige linen ensemble, beige accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Homer W. Liston of Berkeley, wore a rose beige lace dress, light blue accessories and a purple orchid.

Following the wedding ceremony, more than 100 guests attended a reception in the church's banquet room, where the newlyweds cut a three tiered wedding cake with the traditional bride and groom figures and was encircled with gardenias and carnations.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a blue linen dress, matching hat and shoes, and a beige duster, and the orchid from her bouquet.

For their honeymoon, the young couple went to Yosemite and Catalina Island.

Preceding the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Liston were hosts at their Masefield Drive home to members of the family and friends.

Girls Hit While Crossing Street

Crossing Mt. Diablo Boulevard where a Greyhound bus had stopped at railway tracks, two Walnut Creek girls were struck by a car operated by John Key, 17, of 3 Garden Court.

The girls, Allora Shields, 7, of 1711 Almond Avenue and Jean Riniker, 10, of 1384 Oakland Boulevard, were taken to the Kaiser Hospital, July 13, and later released. Each had cuts and bruises.

The girls ran in front of the car, according to Highway Patrol officers who did not cite Key.

Demo Group Will Hear Dr. Cross

Dr. Laurence L. Cross, former Berkeley mayor, now a Seventh District congressional candidate, will be guest speaker at a public tea preceding an election meeing of the new East-Central Contra Costa Democratic Women's Club tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the Walnut Creek Women's Club, Lincoln and Carmel Streets.

Mrs. William Backer, a Concord attorney will preside, and Mrs. Richard Stansberry, Danville, will be in charge of general arrangement, working with a committee including Mrs. John Morgan, Pleasant Hill, temporary social chairman.

"Why We Are Democrats" will be Dr. Cross' topic. An ordained minister, he was mayor of Berkeley for two terms and formerly broadcast a daily news program.

The club, organized in May at a luncheon in the Pioneer Inn, Clayton, now numbers about 75 members from the Walnut Creek area, Danville, Pleasant Hill, Concord, Martinez and Pittsburg.

Mrs. Richard R. Nesbitt, secretary, and Mrs. Sallie Hoff, 11th Assembly District representative for the county federation of Democratic clubs, are Walnut Creek area residents on the temporary board.

Mrs. Varley McBeth, Pleasant Hill community co-chairman, outlined tea plans for eastern county residents Wednesday in Pittsburg, when board members were guests of the area unit. Main speaker was Thomas Saunders, Kensington, Sixth Congressional District director and treasurer of the California Democratic Council.

Marnie Miller Is Guest in PH

Miss Marnie Miller of Winnemucca, Nevada, was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoyer, her brother-in-law and sister, of 95 Cleopatra Drive.

Miss Miller arrived about the 4th of July after flying in from Badnauheim, Germany where she has been teaching the 6th grade and serving as vice principal for the past year in conjunction with the United States GI educational program. Before arriving in Pleasant Hill, she stopped a few days to visit in Washington, D.C. with Senator George Malone of Nevada and his staff.

In 1952-53 Miss Miller studied graduate work at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland on a Rotary International scholarship. She taught in Linz, Austria, until the Austrian Peace Treaty was signed in 1954. She toured most of the European countries, including a trip behind the iron curtain and the Red section of Berlin in 1955, and Italy and Spain.

During the two week Easter holiday this year, Miss Miller visited in Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Egypt; Beirut, Lebanon and Greece, Athens. During her stay in Pleasant Hill she showed slides taken during that trip to the Hoyers, their sons, Bobbie and Freddie, Mrs. Curtis Love, Mrs. Anne Parker, Mrs. Estelle Girande, Fred Hoyer, and Mrs. Jean Wieben.

Before she left Germany, Miss Miller visited with her brother, Stanley Miller, who was stationed in Hamburg, Germany as a government intelligence civilian.

From Pleasant Hill, Miss Miller went to Sacramento where she was guest of honor at an informal dinner with Rotary officials and friends. She was to address the group and show the colored slides.

She is expected to revisit Pleasant Hill in August on her way to Japan where she will be assigned to teach for a year or two.

More Americans Seeking Bigger Homes is Report

Families throughout the nation and Central Contra Costa County are moving up the housing scale, Barney Gilbert, president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, said today.

Gilbert cited findings of a recent nationwide survey of the National Association of Real Estate Boards of which the Contra Costa Board is a member, and the recent experience of Contra Costa Realtors.

The NAREB survey, which summarizes prevailing conditions in 220 market areas across the nation, found that tenants and purchasers alike are seeking living space of design, size, and location better suited to meet their family needs, Gilbert said.

GILBERT SAID, "Renters with more choice available to them are shuning makeshift quarters, or those with inadequate facilities or in need of major repair. Home buyers are apparently willing to postpone other purchases and assume substantial mortgage obligations to buy the house of their choice.

Record personal income levels and a free and varied market of existing new houses have combined to make effective the consumer demand for better housing, he added.

"And it is this consumer demand that has kept habitable vacancies low since World War II and has continued to sustain the value of quality shelter while forcing the repair of deficient units or speeding their removal from the market," Gilbert observed.

"In every sector of the market the influence of consumer preference for good housing is apparent, and unless home production falters drastically, the filtration process will accelerate as more and more families assert their wish to live in greater comfort."

GILBERT QUOTED a recent report from the Federal Housing Administration to the effect that in 1955 for the first time since the FHA has been keeping records on the area of typical new homes on which it insures mortgage loans, the space provided tops 1000 square feet. This compared with 838 square feet in 1950, 924 square feet in 1953, and 961 square feet in 1954.

The typcial house in 1955 was made up of 5½ rooms with three bedrooms, the FHA has said, noting that the three-bedroom house was also the most popular in 1954 although the 1955 house was slightly more spacious.

A similar report pointing up the upgrading of housing throughout the country was made jointly by the U.S. Departments of Commerce and Labor.

BETWEEN 1954 and 1955, the Department said, three-bedroom houses became much more popular as shown by the fact that houses in this category accounted for more than two-thirds of the total built.

Reporting that the median proposed selling price for new houses had increased from $12,300 in 1954 to $13,700 in 1955, the departments said that a major element in the rise was the larger size of the houses being built. Other elements in the higher prices were rises in land, development, and construction costs.

The FHA said that the 1955 income of the typical new home buyer who used FHA financing was nearly $5500, while the typical buyer of an existing home in 1955 had an income of approximately $5700.

The average purchaser of a home in with a Veterans Administration loan guaranty in 1955 had a monthly income of $494.

The couple's betrothal was announced recently at the home of the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Benson of 207 Carolos, Martinez.

Johnson, Hodge Wed in WC

St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Walnut Creek was the setting for the recent marriage of Christine Johnson of Lafayette to Iral Du Wayne Hodge of Walnut Creek, an Ensign in the U.S. Navy.

With ceremonies presided over by the Rev. Wildred Hodgkins of the church, Christine, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor T. Johnson, 1098 Marguerite Court, Lafayette, was given in marriage by her father.

Her new husband, an Ensign aboard the U.S.S. General W. A. Mann, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Iral G. Hodge, 1073 Hacienda Drive, Walnut Creek.

A princess style dress with lace bodice and sleeves gowned the bride. A chapel train in white crystallette and a finger-tip veil with coronet of orange blossoms of pearl and net completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Grant Shepherd of La Crescenta, who attended Christine as Matron of Honor, wore a pink crystallette gown with self-embroidered trim, also in the princess style. She carried an arm bouquet of long stemmed pink roses and was adorned with a small pink hat and veil.

Similarly attired were the bridesmaids, Miss Marian Troyer of Lafayette, Miss Rosemarie Sorge of Concord, Miss Nancy Ure of Lafayette and Miss June Holaday of San Anselmo.

The groom's sister, Karen Hodge, served Christine as junior bridesmaid.

Included in the groom's party were best man Ralph Caro of Santa Clara and ushers Victor T. Johnson Jr. (the bride's brother), Ensign Bruce Allred of Salt Lake City, Bob Christiansen of Walnut Creek and Grant Shepherd of La Crescenta.

The newlyweds were both graduated from Acalanes High School, Christine in 1952 and Iral in 1951.

From there, however, their paths separated as the new Mrs. Hodge attended UCLA, graduating from there in June with a degree in theater arts, and Iral was working toward his degree in distributive education at the University of Utah, which he received last year.

Following a wedding reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Ure, Diablo View Road, Lafayette, the couple left for a honeymoon in Carmel and the Monterey Bay area.

Pat Tunnicliff Marries; Has Birthday Same Night

Saturday night bore a double significance for Patricia Tunnicliff, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Tunnicliff, 147 Las Vegas Road, Orinda, as she exchanged nuptial vows with Milton Van Slyke of Caldwell, Idaho, in the University Christian Church, Berkeley.

Pat celebrated her 21st birthday the same evening.

Birthdays were forgotten, however, at the ceremonies officated by Dr. Jack Finegan.

The newlyweds culminated their engagement, having met while both were students at the College of Idaho, against the background of white gladiolas and tapers that decorated the church.

Milt's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Van Slyke of Caldwell, and had his brother, Delbert, as best man.

Pat's dress was of embroidered organdy made with empire waistline and a floor length full skirt. Her veil was held in place by a tiny cap of organdy embroidered with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds centered with pink baby roses.

Puanani Garrison of Orinda was maid of honor and she wore a deep pink taffeta gown. Bridesmaids were Donna Tunnicliff, younger sister of the bride, Charlene McMillan of Berkeley and Mrs. Leland Van Slyke, sister-in-law of bridegroom. They wore light taffeta dresses of the same design as the maid of honor's, and all attendants carried pink carnations in old fashioned bouquets.

The bride's mother wore light blue crystallette with lace trim and had matching accessories. Milton's mother wore a deeper blue lace gown with white accessories. Both wore white orchids.

Patricia is a 1954 graduate of Acalanes High School, where she was a member of the Daphne Branch of the Children's Hospital.

Following a honeymoon in Carmel the couple will reside in Berkeley until they leave for Seattle, Wash., where both plan to attend the Universiy of Washington.

The new Mrs. Edwards, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Sondag, 3372 Springhill Road, was given in marriage by her father.

She was dressed, for the ceremony, in a ballerina length white chantilly lace gown with a scooped neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her fingertip length veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms.

Sandra carried a white Bible, white orchids and stephanotis.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Bert Gill of Portland, Miss Dolores Kewell of Piedmont and Miss Diane Snashall of Lafayette.

The attendants were dressed in ballerina length blue crystallette gowns. Their ensembles were completed with matching veils and shoes and they carried bouquets of blue delphinium.

Rheem Maintains Top League Spot

Middleton-Marchi Also Rack Up Wins

In league play of the Walnut Creek Softball League last week, Rheem Center's nine, currently occupying the top rung, kept up their winning ways with a pair of wins.

Middleton and Marchi chalked up single wins of their own at the expense of Kings Food Center.

On Tuesday of last week, Rheem came through with a 3-1 win over Middleton and Marchi, thanks to the two-hit pitching effort of Big Ed Bill, who whiffed 12 batters over the seven innings of play. Although sometimes shaky and allowing seven free passes to first base, the big chucker consistently came through in the clutch, except for one letdown in the 5th.

M AND M's lone run came in the 5th when Bill walked two in a row and hit a third batter to load the bases. A third walk that inning forced in the run.

But the game might have ended there for the Ms. It was their final tally.

Rheem actually had the game sewed up in the first as they scored two quick runs. The tallies came when Jim Teicheira singled and scored on Ken Gerner's double. Gerner scored in turn when Bill Piona lined a single.

Run number three for the Rheem nine came in the second inning when Gus Teicheira got on via an error and crossed home plate by courtesy of Ed Bill's double.

RED EDISON, in going the route on the mound for the losers, gave up seven hits and a pair of walks while whiffing one.

The next night, however, Middleton and Marchi was redeemed by walloping Kings Market 11-2.

Sal Mecurio was the winning chucker as he gave up six hits, yielded three bases on balls and struck out one hitter.

Ed Vick and Gene Bell shared the pitching chores for Kings, giving up seven hits, 12 free bases and set down seven batters on strikes between them.

VICK HAD much difficulty finding the plate as he was accountable for 10 of the dozen walks. Joe Billeci of the winners had a perfect two for two at bat with a pair of singles.

John Novne of Kings had a booming triple for his two efforts at bat.

The game started well for Kings as they compiled a 2-1 lead going into the third frame. Then the roof caved in and the complexion of the game was completely reversed.

Errors, walks and wild pitches combined with timely M and M hitting scored two runs in the third, three in the fourth, three in the fifth and another pair in the final frame for the winners. Kings remained scoreless after the second frame.

FRIDAY WAS THE 13TH, and it proved unlucky for Contra Costa Sand and Gravel as they were edged by Rheem Center 2-1, in a good, tight ball game.

Sand and Gravel took the lead when they scored in the second when centerfielder Bob Plaff singled, stole second and third and wound up scoring on an error by the catcher.

The lead was short lived, however, as Rheems came back with two runs in the top of the fourth. Leftfielder John Witherwax tripled after two were down. Rightfielder Harold Maxwell followed with a home run, making it 2-1. That's the way it stayed.

Ed Bill notched the win with another brilliant hurling exhibition, this time a one-hitter. Bill gave up six walks while setting down 13 would-be hitters on strikes.

Will Beuchel-hurled for the losers and was touched for eight safeties. He gave up no walks and struck out four to almost match Bill's effort.

In the hitting department Jim Teicheira of Rheems got three hits in four tries, all singles. Sand and Gravel's only hit came off the bat of centerfielder Bob Plaff when he singled in the third.

MONDAY EVENING started off this week's diamond activities with the first round of the Walnut Creek Invitational Tournament.

In the first game of the night Garrow Furniture of Antioch swept to a 5-2 win over Howdy Chevrolet-Buick of Livermore behind the two hit pitching of Ivan Beaudin.

In contrast, the Garrow nine posted 10 hits off the offerings of Wayne Avila. Avila struck out three to Beaudin's nine.

Howdy scored both of its runs in the fifth, while the winners had one run in the third, fourth and fifth frames and a pair for insurance in the sixth.

In the evening's second game Bud's Auto of Brentwood edged Berkeley Buick 2-1. In the hit department it was just as close as the score, with Bud's slightly ahead, 4-3.

The game was a pitcher's duel all the way, with both clubs scoreless through the first four innings. The Buickers broke the iee in the fifth when Ted Teixeira singled, went to second on a fielder's choice and scored when teammate pinch hitter Bob Athawe doubled.

THE BRENTWOOD NINE put on a Horatio Alger finish, waiting until the seventh to score their two runs for the victory.

With one down on a strikeout, things looked rather bleak, but it all changed when leftfielder Vern Robbins was on with a double. He scored when catcher Donnie Morse followed with another double.

Second later firstbaseman Ken McClavahon became the hero when he scored Morse with a double for run number two.

THAT ENDED the scoring as Berkeley Buick went down in order in their turn at bat in the bottom of the seventh.

Noel Looney was the winning pitcher, walking one and striking out 10, while giving up but three hits.

Tom Joy, the loser, gave up four hits, one walk and struck out 13. Final round of play takes place tonight with a pair of games at 7:30 and 9:15.

Winner of the tournament will be crowned after the second game tomorrow night with the King of the consolation bracket being crowned at the end of the 7:30 p.m. game.

NEXT WEEK league play returns with games as follows:

Tuesday — Contra Costa Sand and Gravel vs. Kings at Walnut Creek, 9 p.m.; Hoffman vs. Rheem at Martinez, 8:45 p.m.

Wednesday — Contra Costa Sand and Gravel vs. Hoffman at Walnut Creek, 8:45 p.m.

Thursday — Serpa vs. Kings at Martinez, 8:45 p.m.; Walnut Creek Girls at Walnut Creek, 9 p.m.

GAS CAP

If for any reason you lose the gas cap on your car, be sure it is replaced with the correct type cap, cautions the California State Automobile Association. A vented gasoline tank cap is necessary to insure proper "breathing."

Lafayette Youth Ball Races Tight In Rush to Wire

Tempo in the Major and Minor loops of the Lafayette Youth Baseball League has been on the increase as the teams swing into the final three weeks of the season.

With the races tightening up in both divisions, play this week and last proved essential toward deciding the championships.

Here are the results of Minor League play in recent games:

July 11 — Sports & Games 11 . . . Rett-White 2.

July 12 — Lincoln Development 5 . . . Lafayette Pharmacy 4.

July 13 — Kings Fods 17 . . . Gaston's Cleaners 1.

July 16 — Kings Foods 2 . . . Lincoln Development 1.

July 17 — Sun Valley Lumber 13 . . . Sports & Games 12.

In the Majors the scores were as follows:

July 9 — Gastons 4 . . . Kings 0.

July 10 — Lafayette Pharmacy 4 . . . Lincoln Development 0.

July 11 — Sports & Games 3 . . . Rett-White 0.

July 12 — Lafayette Rentals 9 . . . Jacuzzi Hydrotherapy 0.

July 13 — Lafayette Furniture 10 . . . Sun Valley Lumber 6.

July 17 — Lafayette Furniture 12 . . . Rett-White 2.

In the schedule for the coming week, all games are set for 6:30 p.m. Minor League games at Hageman Field are slated as follows:

Today — Jacuzzi vs. Lafayette Furniture.

Monday — Lafayette Rental vs. Rett-White.

Tuesday — Lafayette Pharmacy vs. Lafayette Furniture.

Wednesday — Sun Valley Lumber vs. Lincoln Development.

Thursday — Kings Market vs. Jacuzzi Hydrotherapy.

In the Majors all games are to be played at Mattson Field. Games line up like this:

Today—Gaston Cleaners vs. Jacuzzi Hydrotherapy.

Tomorrow—Lafayette Rental vs. Lincoln Development.

Monday—Lafayette Rental vs. Rett-White.

Tuesday—Lafayette Pharmacy vs. Lafayette Furniture.

Wednesday—Sun Valley Lumber vs. Lincoln Development.

Thursday—Kings Market vs. Jacuzzi Hydrotherapy.

It is interesting to note that a switch hitter has shown up in the Minors while there is a switch thrower in the Majors.

Last week Leonard Ferro, a Minor loop player, hit a homer left handed, then repeated the performance right handed. In the Majors, Louis Cassos, who was awarded this season's trophy as an all-around athlete, scholar and sportsman at Stanley School, shows ability to throw both right and left handed.

Louis has reminded observers of Acalanes High's great all-around athlete Bob Burghesani, another ambidextrious performer, who went on to star at East Contra Costa Junior College and San Jose State College.

Following are the standings in the Minor League up till last Wednesday:

Archers to Start Season Tomorrow

Bow and arrow hunters open the 1956 deer season tomorrow as the coastal archery season prevails until July 30. The regular coastal firearms season opens August 4.

The archery season for bears is open concurrently with the archery deer season with a bag limit of two deer, forked horn or better, and two bears, in the coastal district.

Archers are reminded that they may not carry firearms or have firearms under their immediate control while hunting deer with bow and arrow during the archery deer season. The use of crossbows or dogs during the archery season is prohibited.

Hatchery Men Ride Herd on Tiny Bass

Fish and Game hatchery men are riding underwater herd on thousands of tiny black bass as part of the department's warm-water fish procurement program.

As hot weather drives the little fish deep in the reservoirs and ponds from which they are being taken for transplanting, two hatchery men from Central Valleys Hatchery, Elk Grove, take to their fins and face plates.

With a fine seine net between them, the men, Gus Geibel and Bob Dennilli, dive to the level of the school, and with waves of their arms and use of the seine, herd the fish into the shallows. The schools run from 10,000 to 50,000 fish at this stage of their development, when they are about an inch long and a week old.

The fish herd readily and the underwater method has been very successful, the men say.

Football Dangers No Worse Than Perils of Daily Life

By ERWIN MATTSON

Football is not far away and interest, as far as the kids are concerned, is already on the pick-up.

One of the big questions that comes up for many at this stage is whether or not a boy should play football.

I must admit that I am prejudiced in favor of football before I even start, despite the fact I will no longer be coaching varsity ball, having stepped down after 25 years, which puts me in the "old, worn out" category.

I am definitely in favor of one thing — the boy making up his own mind whether it be football, basketball, track, swimming, tennis or golf!

If a boy likes and wants to play, or at least have a try at the pigskin sport, he should have his chance.

As I have said many times, the dangers of the gridiron game are greatly exaggerated. There are accidents in every walk of life and they occur in all phases of sports.

If a boy falls down at home and breaks a bone it is accepted as one of the chances of daily living, but if it occurs on the football field it is really magnified.

The same thing happens today in airplane accidents, which are played up all out of proportion because they are sensational and big news items. Every day hundreds are killed in automobiles throughout the country, but it becomes routine news relegated to the back page or to annual statistics unless it is local.

The fact remains that football with modern equipment is not a dangerous game — if it were it wouldn't be played in high schools today.

It is easy to measure the negative but difficult to measure the positive, such as physical and mental development. Too many exaggerate the dangers, usually those who never have played. What one person likes another may dislike.

Some people like body contact sports whereas others don't.

Many active boys require a sport on the rough side and enjoy the keen competition. In my book to deny it to them is wrong. They are bundles of energy and require a healthy output for normal development-physically and mentally.

I believe a boy in high school, and college for that matter, should engage in as wide a scope of athletic experiences as he is interested in. True, he can become greater in skill, as far as one activity is concerned, if he concentrates on one sport year around.

Here again I say the decision should rest with the individual. If he enjoys and has a desire for only one activity, fine — if he wants to take a part in a broad year around program, that's also fine.

Then again, if he is not interested in any after trying them, let him find an outlet elsewhere.

I have said my little annual piece regarding football, and probably haven't changed any minds. But let's not speak of danger in sports and then turn around and get a car for the boy, because football is a sissy's game alongside the gasoline tanks on four wheels.

Don't take my word for it — ask the insurance companies. They go on cold statistics. Football insurance can be had for $2. What do you pay on your car?

One of the latest deep discussions in Youth Baseball has been the distance of the pitcher's mound at the field out Acalanes High way. The discussion arose largely due to the fact that some good pitching performances have taken place there in recent weeks.

Walnut Creek Sports and Games enlivened the discussion when they recently faced a Lafayette team composed of players from various teams in the local circuit.

The Walnut Creek nine won the city league last year with an undefeated season, and could well repeat as they are undefeated in league play to date.

Consequently, when they lost to the Lafayette club there was considerable debate as to why.

One theory was that the pitching mound was too close, as Danny Toll, on the mound for Lafayete, threw a one-hitter. It seems that Gordon McNulty, who has done a terific job in getting the game going in Lafayette, stepped it off and said it was 46 feet from the plate.

For general information, Gordy's steps were off considerably, as the diamond was laid out with a steel tape, and actually the distance is 50 feet 1½ inches, which is farther than the pitcher's rubber in the Walnut Creek park.

I happened to umpire the game and actually it was a great pitchers' duel on the part of two fine boys — Tom Strain and Danny Toll. It was a game between two fine clubs, and with such throwing a case of who got the breaks at the right time.

If they played a dozen times, chances are it would be close and either club could win.

I, for one, am thankful that both throwers are headed for Acalanes!

Rules For Boat Skippers Make Smooth Sailing Easy

A hearty welcome and a wish for smooth sailing has been issued to all new boat owners by Ambrose P. MacDonald, public relations officer of the Oakland Power Squadron.

But MacDonald, who lives at 52 Davis Road in Orinda, adds that both new and old boaters must recognize their responsibilities in order to avoid the storms and squalls of water traffic hazards.

"YOU KNOW, OF COURSE," the seaman said, "that a boat operator's license is not required in Federal waters unless you use your boat for hire, but you do have responsibilities.

"So, before your first real cruise, get a free copy of the Pilot Rules from your nearest U. S. Coast Guard District Office. You will learn that boating has nautical traffic rules and equipment requirements, just as motoring has its rules."

MacDonald revealed the following rules conducive to safe boating.

"First," he said, "rules of the road apply to all vessels that are underway—a boating term meaning that the boat is not at anchor, aground, or tied up to a pier. Certain whistle signals will tell you what the other skipper is doing, but lack of signals does not alter a vessel's rights.

"A BOAT WITH the right of way is known as the privileged vessel. All others are called burdened. The privileged boat must hold her course and speed, unless drastic last-minute action is necessary to avoid collision. The burdened boat must keep clear of the privileged one.

"Now," the officer stated, "let's look at three common traffic situations: Overtaking, meeting head-on and crossing.

"When two boats are going in the same direction, with one going fast enough to overtake the lead boat, the leading boat is privileged, and the overtaking boat has no rights whatsoever.

"The overtaking boat remains burdened until she has passed free and clear of the other vessel.

"Where two boats are approaching head-on, it is the duty of each skipper to change course to starboard (right), so that the boats can easily pass port (left) to port. Each must give one blast of the whistle.

MacDonald continued, "In the crossing situation, the vessel which has the other on her own port side shall be the privileged vessel. The skipper should sound one blast of the whistle.

"THE BURDENED boat should slow down, and turn to starboard if necessary, to pass behind the other. When a boat is both overtaking and crossing the course of another, the overtaking rule prevails.

"In giving whistle signals, it is easy to remember whether to give one blast or two. The word port has one syllable; give one blast when passing port to port. Starboard has two syllables; give two blasts when passing starboard to starboard.

"Never use the whistle to say hello to a passing friend," he warned.

"In general, it is wise to give way quickly to commercial or government boats such as ferries, tankers, and other heavy vessels even when you have the right of way. A small boat is much more maneuverable that a deep-draft vessel.

"The law says you must do everything in your power to avoid a collision, and that includes breaking the Rules of the Road," he concluded.

PARTICULAR young women

If you are that type young woman, preferably with some college training or business experience, talk with our employment advisors about being a Telephone Company Service Representative.

A service representative's job is interesting—challenging. She is responsible for contacts with customers assigned to her on business matters concerning their service.

There's variety in her work. That's one reason why it appeals to alert women who like dealing with people — to take responsibility and exercise judgment.

Good pay while you learn. Regular raises, too.

Youth Must Be Prepared To Encounter Problems

(Editor's note — David H. Dail was one of three winners of the recently held essay contest among graduating students of the Pine Grove School. His essay is reproduced in full below. The contest was sponsored by the Orinda Lions. Compositions of the other two winners will follow in later editions of The Sun.)

By DAVID. H. DAIL

We are the youths of today. We are the leaders of tomorrow.

In growing from the youth to the leaders we will face many problems. One of the first problems we have to face is that of being able to accept our problems and find ways of solving them. We will always have problems of some sort.

We may be deciding which college to go to, what sort of job to prepare for, what sort of wife or husband to look for or whether to visit Venus or Mars on the next trip. We should learn to face our problems when they arise and not put them off or pretend they don't exist.

THE SCEOND PROBLEM is that of changing grown-ups' opinions of us. Grown-ups think the youth of today is going to the dogs, and perhaps they are right. Almost any day we can pick up a newspaper and read "Young Vandals Break Windows in School Busses," or "Youthful Bandit Shoots Grocer," or "Youth Leads Police In 90 Mile Per Hour Chase."

We might also read, "Our earth is degenerate in these later days; these signs that the world is speedily coming to an end, bribery and corruption rule the world and children no longer obey their parents."

When we noticed the dateline on this last article we were surprised to see that it was written 2800 years before the birth of Christ.

FOR CENTURIES grown-ups have been thinking there is no hope for youth. They seem to have reason for their doubts, if 1957 figures are any indication. In that year 350,000 boys and girls from ten to seventeen years of age came to the attention of juvenile courts and about one million were dealt with by police.

We, as youth, might say that more of us get into trouble now because there are more of us, but if we again look at the figures we see that between 1948 and 1951 the percentage increase in the numbers of delinquency cases was more than three times as great as the percentage increase in population from ten to seventeen years old.

It seems that the only way we can change grown-ups' opinions of us is to help eliminate the reasons for these opinions. We as youth should be able to do something about our own problems.

ONE THING we can do about this problem is to join and encourage others to join the many worthwhile organzations which are provided for our benefit.

We can try to arouse interest in hobbies and recreational programs. We can set examples for younger people and show them how to put the "Creations" instead of the "Wreck" into recreation. We must not only watch our own actions, but show that we disapprove of destructive acts of others.

If enough teen-agers showed that they thought such things as vandalism a crime rather than something smart to do, there would probably be less of it.

We want to be able by our actions to prove to the present leaders that there are more good seeds than bad among us and that when the time comes we will be ready to try to solve the problems which they will pass on to us.

The third problem is that of preparing ourselves to be good leaders in the government of our community, state and nation.

WE DO NOT all need to be governors or presidents to be good leaders. We can lead by participating in our government, by insisting that we have honest officials and by protecting the rights and privileges granted to us by the Constitution of the United States.

We are learning now how our government works and must later learn how to vote intelligently and must never fail to exercise our right to vote.

We know one of the big problems we will have to face is that of settling our differences peacefully. We hope to take part in educating people for peace, but realize that we may not be able to solve this problem in our lifetime, so we should know all about our nation's system of national defense.

WE MUST UNDERSTAND and appreciate the work of the United Nations and hope that someday we may have a part in seeing that it really works to bring about world peace.

Youth's problems of tomorrow will soon be our problems of today.

Man Counters Suit for Divorce

Arthur S. Reinhart, 104 Brookside Road, countered his wife's June 12 suit for divorce recently by filing his own suit on the grounds that Mrs. Reinhart committed adultery with her first husband.

Reinhart, personnel manager for a Richmond aircraft company changed that his wife had been "consorting" with her first husband, Jefferson Springmeyer. He claimed that the couple spent time together in her Carson City, Nev., apartment during a five day period last March.

Mrs. Reinhart filed the original suit in the Richmond branch of superior court, charging "extreme mental cruelty." The couple separated May 19, five and a half years after their Reno marriage.

Both are seeking custody of Reinhart's three daughters, aged 20, 16 and 6, all by his previous marriage. They are also contesting aquisition of all the community property.

Birthday Magic Day for Girl

There always seems to be a touch of magic about the birthday of a youngster, but Cindy Easterbrook's 7-year-old birthday party last week was literally a "magic" day.

Highlight of the party, held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Easterbrook, 39 California Avenue, was a magic show put on by Ken Phelps, local slight of hand artist who is developing fame an a conjurer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Phelps.

Awe-struck party guests were Claire Barkelew, Linda Grimes, Kathy Aberham, Viki Eldridge, Debbie Saunders, Leana Baer, Ed Feifert and Susan Kleyn-Schoorel.

Varied Events In Summer 'Rec' Schedule Lists

Here's the schedule of the Orinda School District Summer Recreation Program, for the last week of the program:

Friday—Playground activities; crafts; swimming party.

Monday—Treasure hunt; crafts; playground activities.

Tuesday—Organized sports and games; swimming party; folk dancing (parents).

Wednesday — Playground activities; Movie Day.

Thursday — Carnival, Orinda School, 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Alaskan Tour Is 'Wonderful'

The cold didn't bother Mrs. George F. Hickock, 88 El Toyonal, Orinda, on her recent trip to Alaska and points north.

"The weather was beautiful," she claims, "and I had a wonderful time."

The five week tour actually began for Mrs. Hickock early in June when she joined the Churchill Tours in Portland, Ore. She and her traveling companions on the tour headed for Vancouver, B.C., from where they boarded the Prince George liner to Alaska.

Skagway, Alaska, Mrs. Hickock reports, was the focal point of the tour and on July 4 provided the highlight of the visit. Natives there recalled the gold-rush days of '49 with similated gambling and dance halls.

On her way home, Mrs. Hickock was met by her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Farrar, and granddaughters, Kathy, 6, and Elizabeth, 3, in Portland. A leisurely drive, with several stops along the way, finally brought Mrs. Hickock home.

Agency Advertising 'Hand-in-hand' Goods

The Orinda advertising agency of Cappel, Pera and Reid, Inc., is curently handling the advertising for two products that could go hand in hand.

Grant's Ant Control, a product of the Grant Laboratories, is employing a new advertising schedule, as set up by the local promoters, featuring ads scattered through the food section of newspapers in 13 major markets in the area.

One of Cappel, Pera and Reid's latest clients, on the other hand, is Dreyer's Grand Ice Cream, Inc., of Oakland. CP and R will be conducting an intensive drive to promote sales of Dreyer's products.

Three photographic honors were collected by a local photographer recently at the West Coast Professional Photographers' Convention in San Jose.

New Therapy Center May Open in Fall

Plans are being made for an October opening of the new Mt. Diablo Therapy Center building, going up at Golf Links Road, in north Pleasant Hill, it was announced.

Administrator Juanita Benoy has said:

"The work on the new therapy center is progressing according to plan.

"JUST AS IN October when all the leveling and grading were done with donated time and equipment, much of the work and equipment for the underground utilities has also been donated.

"Under the general supervision of Mr. Frank Mattos, the work on the sewer and septic tank systems was done on three weekends, much of it on May 5.

"Mattos secured almost all of the needed material from many local and Bay Area firms. The employees of one firm, learning of their company's donation of material, contributed a substantial sum of money to purchase more material.

"ANOTHER FIRM not only donated generously of their material, but in turn contacted their sources of supply and succeeded in obtaining $2,000 worth of sand and cement.

"They will all be invited by special invitation to attend the opening of the Center, and then we will have a opportunity to meet and thank them.

"The footings have been poured and they are now ready for the radiant heat, tubing and the slab floor.

"Plans are being made for an October opening."

Cappel Honored At Rotary Meet

Paul Jackson, representative of the California Automobile Association, was the guest speaker at Orinda Rotary Club's weekly luncheon meeting at the Willow Inn last week.

He presented to Earl Cappel, club treasurer, a certificate of appreciation for the furnishing by Cappel Pontiac, Walnut Creek, of autos for the driver education program in the Acalanes High School District.

The meeting was Ramsay-Underwood's first as new president of Orinda Rotary. Underwood outlined the organizational program for the coming year.

Dr. Harold Brown auctioned off four baskets of berries, the proceeds to go to the Rotary fund.

Singer to Come Home Following German Acclaim

With two years experience on the German opera stage and rave reviews from German critics behind her, Miss Frances Groves arrived home recently for her first visit in four years.

Miss Groves will stay six or seven weeks with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Murray H. Groves, 25 Camino Encinas.

The attractive dramatic soprano earned her teaching credential at College of the Pacific. She sang in college productions and later studied voice with Hedwig Schnoor in Berkeley.

She continued training with Jennie Tourel and the late Paul Althouse in New York.

For two years Miss Groves worked with Mme. Iukashik in Munich, Germany, before being accepted for a principal operatic role in the Stadt Theater, Heidelberg.

Upon her return to Germany she will sing in the opera house at Kiel.

Newspaper clippings sent to her mother from Germany describe Miss Groves' singing as "brilliant" and "excellent." Her German enunciation was termed "Flawless," Mrs. Groves reported.

The young singer attended grade school in Orinda, Acalanes High school and Anna Heads' school in Berkeley. She was graduated from Berkeley High before attending C.O.P.

National Article Tells of Orinda Baby-Sitting Co-op

Mothers of young children in Orinda are finding more time to devote to recreational and out-of-the home activities, contends a writer in the July issue of the Ladies' Home Journal.

In an article entitled "More Free Time for Mothers," author Margaret Hickey includes Orinda mothers, organized in baby-sitting cooperatives, in a nation-wide report of several similar organizations. The article appears on page 29 of the Journal.

Quoting a statement from the Orinda co-ops that "Our baby-sitting co-op is an answer to at least 50 per cent of our problems," the article reveals that at present there are five local co-ops with a total membership of 85.

THE PROJECT was begun, according to the Journal story, just three years ago when "discussed for the first time by two young mothers over a back fence."

Explaining the organiaztion of the groups, the article states that each of the co-ops has a chairman and a secretary. The chairman serves for one year and handles much of the administrative, arbitrary and financial business.

ON THE OTHER HAND, members take turns serving as secretary for one-month periods. During her reign as secretary, a mother makes arrangements for members to sit for their comrades-in-need and keeps a cumulative record of hours, plus and minus, for each member.

She receives payment of 1½ hours sitting credit from each of the other members for her work.

"Gadders," those members requesting sitters, may not have help under any circumstances when they are 15 hours or more in debt. This applies, of course, until a member has "sat" out enough time to bring her back in good standing.

"Ordinarily," continues the Journal article, "the number of hours a sitter serves and those the gadder owes her are the same. But specific rules provide for extra pay for feeding, dressing or performing other special services.

"If, for example, a child is fed at lunchtime, the gadder owes the sitter an extra half hour; if at dinnertime, an extra hour."

MENTIONED AS two "charter" members of the program are Mrs. Lois Glascock and Mrs. George Zozak, who are able to devote their time to their own interests and to those of their children "In this unhurried way . . ."

"But almost equal to that of being with mother alone," the portion of the article on Orinda concludes, "is the pleasure the children take in visiting, the sitters say.

"The co-operative, which gives mothers free time, provides invaluable advantages to the children as well: suitable playmates and loving care — whether in their own or another mother's home."

County Planners Hold to Day Sessions Only

The County Planning Commission will continue to hold night meetings only, despite repeated requests that it also meet in the daytime, members decided recently.

Commissioner Arthur Young stated that usually persons concerned with deliberations are unable to attend the meetings in the daytime.

The request for day sessions was originally presented by Fred Kracke, secretary of the Association for the Progress and Improvement of Contra Costa County.

Orinda Church Youths Chosen Camp Officers

Twenty members of the senior high P.F.ers of the Orinda Community Church have returned from a week in the redwoods at the East Bay Camp at Cazadero, where two of their group were elected as camp officers for the year.

Honored wre Phyllis Dale, who was elected president, and John Boyd, vice president.

Marilyn Englehard was appointed Christian Youth Fruit Camp Commissioner for the fruit camp near Modesto, where the young people salvage the fruit left by professional pickers, dry it and ship it overseas as a part of the missionary aid to Christians in other countries.

County Sued for Flood Damages

Contra Costa County is being sued for $6,500 damage an Orinda couple alleges was done to their property through construction of flood control works by the county.

Dr. and Mrs. George T. Prlain said their property at 47 Estabueno Street was adversely affected when the county diverted the flow of a tributary of San Pablo Creek across their 90 by 173 foot lot during storms last Dec. 23, and 29 and Feb. 22.

The flow of water through two 36-inch culverts and across the lot caused the property to subside and collapse into San Pablo Creek, the suit charges.

The Prlains have asked the court to compel the county to repair the culverts and restore collapsed portions of the lot.

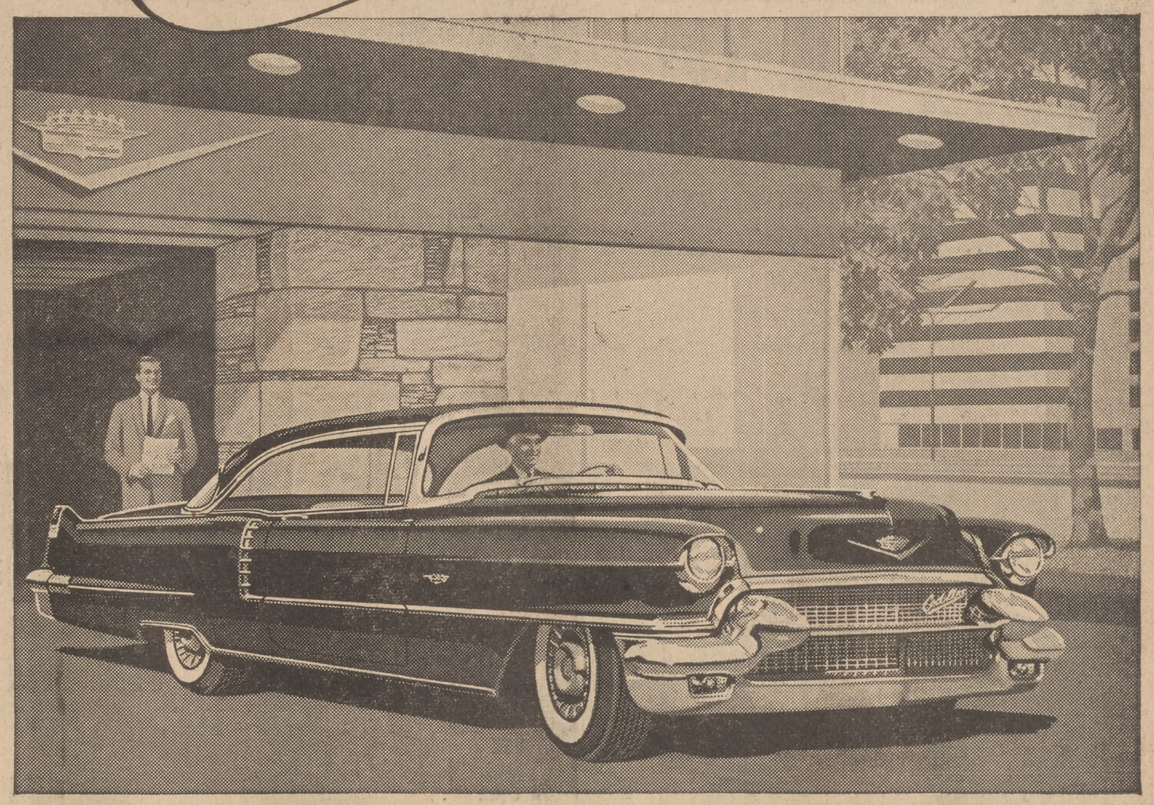
Cadillac



His Last Switch in Motor Cars!

We have no way of knowing, of course, how many different makes of motor cars this gentleman has owned through the years.

But we're willing to bet that he has now made his last switch in motor cars!

For this time it's a Cadillac! And it is historically true that once a motorist makes the move to the "car of cars", he is usually a Cadillac owner for life.

What are the reasons for this great devotion and loyalty? Well, let us count them off.

First of all, there are the things which everyone recognizes in Cadillac. There is its great beauty . . . its matchless luxury . . . and the unquestioned respect which the car commands the world over.

Then there are those qualities with which anyone who has ever driven a Cadillac is familiar. There is its marvelous comfort and ease of handling . . . its magnificent power and performance . . . and its wonderful balance and agility.

And, finally, there are those things which only Cadillac owners themselves can fully appreciate. There is the car's remarkable economy of operation and upkeep—its incredible longevity—and its marvelous resale value.

Incidentally, you will find that we have recently made two additions to this list of things you get when you make your decision for Cadillac.

We're talking about prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance!

Better come in while the circumstances are so favorable—and make your last switch in motor cars!
